Officials Delayed

President Gets Extra Holiday At Palm Beach

Kennedy had planned a mid-morning work session with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and others, to work toward final decisions on the administration plan to seek a 1963 tax cut.

The meeting was put off because fog in the snow-blanketed Washington area held up the departure of a jet transport assigned to bring more than half a dozen officials here for the conference.

Dillon was ready to interrupt his own vacation at nearby Hobe Sound, Fla., to take part in the talks on taxes and the economy.

Among those summoned from Washington were chairman Walter Heller of the Council of Economic Advisers, Undersecretary of the Treasury Henry Fowler and Assistant Secretary Stanley S. Surrey.

Kennedy's 5th graf

Kennedy's latest word on tax cut prospects came in an address to the Economic Club of New York on Dec. 14. Arguing that the present tax system acts as a brake on economic growth, he urged an early reduction in both individual and corporate tax rates, coupled with some tax reforms and a clampdown on federal spending.

Key questions at today's conference involved the strategy of pushing tax cut legislation through a Congress which has a vocal and influential segment that contends any lowering of taxes at this time would create a dangerously large federal budget deficit.

In this case, strategy goes to the substance of the issue because, as Kennedy made evident in his Dec. 14 address, the administration is willing to tailor its proposals to the mood of Congress.

For example, the President said that tax reforms—once envisioned as a major part of the administration program—could not be advocated solely for "academic reasons." He said any changes in existing provisions for special benefits could be justified only if they would contribute to economic growth.

Kennedy also backtracked on a second count. Where once he promised to seek a tax cut retroactive to next Jan. 1, he mentioned no effective date in his New York speech. This was no oversight.

Against this background, the administration's problem is to fashion a tax program that comes close to meeting its initial goals —and still win favor with Congress.

Fires And Other Mishaps Put Total Beyond 800 Mark

Traffic	626
Fires	105

Total	813

By The Associated Press

Tragedy marked the gay Christmas holiday in hundreds of homes across the nation, with a death toll of some 800 in traffic accidents, fires and miscellaneous mishaps.

The No. 1 killer, as usual, was traffic. With final figures still to come, the count showed 626 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents during the four-day Christmas holiday. Fires killed 105 persons and 82 others were killed in a variety of accidents. The over-all total was 813.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated the traffic death toll at 650 to 750, said belated reports may boost the final figure close to 650. The count covered a period of 102 hours, from 6 p.m. (local time) last Friday to midnight Christmas.

There was a sharp rise in the traffic death rate on Christmas, due largely to the heavier travel, the homeward rush of millions and hazardous driving conditions in many sections of the country. At least 160 persons were killed in traffic accidents in the last 24 hours of the long holiday.

The number of traffic deaths compares with a record toll of 706 for a four-day Christmas observance in 1956. The 706 toll also is a record high for any holiday period. The lowest number of traffic fatalities in a four-day Christmas period since World War II was 535 in 1951. In last year's three-day Christmas holiday, traffic fatalities totaled 524.

Reds Depart From Island For Russia

Soviet Passenger Liner Sailed From Havana On Tuesday

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Another mass exodus of Cubans—relatives of the invasion prisoners released just before Christmas—is due in south Florida Thursday. And a Soviet passenger liner sailed from Havana Tuesday night with hundreds of Russians who had been stationed in Cuba.

The Russians — men, women and children — presumably were bound for home aboard the Admiral Najimov, the former German steamship Berlin, which had been berthed in Havana for two weeks.

They boarded the vessel during the day, arriving in long truck and bus convoys. There had been no announcement by Cuban officials of plans to move any large number of Russians off the island.

The Admiral Najimov left from a dock near where an American vessel was being prepared to take on 1,000 relatives of the invasion captives who were ransomed from Fidel Castro.

The steamer African Pilot, which made the ransom run Saturday, is scheduled to arrive about 7 a.m. Thursday at Port Everglades, 25 miles north of Miami. It will land parents, brothers and sisters, wives and children who had stayed in Cuba to be near their imprisoned loved ones.

The travelers are not likely to come aboard overburdened with material goods. Associated Press newsman Joe McGowan Jr., pool representative for U.S. news agencies, said in Havana that a Cuban official told the Prisoner Families Committee that those leaving could take only the clothes they wore.

The official said that any family leaving Cuba will forfeit all its possessions, but if one immediate family member remains, this would not be the case.

Permission for the relatives to depart was given by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro — a Christmas bonus, he said—on the deal exchanging 1,113 captives of the Bay of Pigs invasion of April 17.

400,000-Man Goal National Guard's Aim

Aggressive Drive Slated To Disprove McNamara Theory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army National Guard—wearing a "we'll show McNamara" chip on its shoulder—will open an aggressive recruiting drive in the new year.

Informed sources, disclosing this today, said they are confident the Guard can reach its goal of 400,000 men. It now is about 25,000 short.

They indicated the effort will be spurred by a desire to disprove Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's skepticism that it can be done.

Earlier this year, McNamara sought to trim Army Guard and Reserve strength by 58,000 men on grounds it was not possible without lowering standards to recruit enough men to maintain the Guard at 400,000 and the Reserve at 300,000. Under his proposal, the Guard would have taken a 33,000-man cut and the Reserve a 25,000-man reduction.

Congress directed the Defense Department to make every effort to muster the higher strength without sacrificing quality. Since then the Army has boosted its standards for Guard and Reserve recruits, making it even tougher to reach the manpower objective.

Knowledgeable officials said Guard recruiting would be helped if final agreement could be reached quickly between the Pentagon and state governors on a controversial streamlining of the Guard structure.

A chief feature of the Army-McNamara plan calls for reconstituting four low priority Guard infantry divisions into brigades with a quicker reaction capability in a national emergency.

The Army also wants to lop off a net of 338 obsolete company and detachment-size Guard units.

A parallel Reserve reorganization of roughly the same magnitude already is under way, with a March 31 deadline for completion.

A committee representing the governors has been trying to decide on when to seek a meeting with McNamara to discuss the Guard reorganization. Indications point to a meeting in early January.

Hoffa Blasts U.S. Judge, Prosecutor

Especially Critical Of Federal Jurist In Nashville Trial

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa has criticized severely the federal judge and prosecutor in his Nashville trial which ended in a hung jury Sunday.

Hoffa was especially critical of the decision of Judge William Miller to present to a federal grand jury in January evidence of alleged jury tampering during the 42-day trial. He also had verbal fire for Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

His remarks came in a taped interview with television newsman Ven Marshall of WWJ-TV, detroit. The interview was taped Monday and broadcast that night and again Tuesday.

Hoffa was on trial on a charge of violating the Taft-Hartley Act by accepting, with the late Owen Brennan, a Teamsters vice president, more than a million dollars from a Michigan trucking firm, Commercial Carriers, Inc.

The jury became deadlocked Sunday after 17 hours of deliberations.

Asked for his views on Judge Miller's conduct of the trial, Hoffa replied:

"My reaction is that we had ready and was set to file an affidavit of prejudice, not only during the trial but before the trial.

Of prosecutor James Neal, Hoffa said:

"He is one of the most vicious prosecutors who ever handled a criminal case for the Justice Department. Half truths, innuendos and every sort of underhanded

Police Seek Clues In $100,000 Hijack

DES PLAINES, Ill. (AP) — Hampered by snow and cold at the scene, police pushed their search for clues today in the Christmas Eve hijacking of a Brink's armored truck containing upwards of an estimated $100,000.

Footprints and tire tracks were studied by local and federal authorities before snow on Tuesday blotted out other traces around the truck, which was abandoned with its handcuffed and blindfolded driver in a vacant lot.

Other clues were provided by a chauffeur cap and a toy police badge. They were left behind by three pistol-wielding, hooded robbers who forced their way into the parked truck, overpowered the driver, drove to the vacant lot and transferred the collections from 35 firms to a waiting car.

Cheerful Yule Prevails With Snow Absent

The genuine cheer of the holiday made up for lack of a White Christmas as the East Liverpool area celebrated the Day of the Nativity Tuesday. The City had a rash of minor traffic mishaps to mar the otherwise quiet day.

Some snow had been forecast but none materialized and people who like it white on Christmas had to settle for a landscape still showing patches of the weekend snowfall.

Church groups, clubs and lodges and the Salvation Army provided the cheer for the less fortunate, furnishing baskets for Yule meals with all the trimmings, and clothing and toys for children Santa might have missed otherwise.

Santa Claus was present. Wives of lodge members aided. Gale Laughlin was committee chairman and Mike Gerace is exalted ruler.

Man Wrecks New Vehicle In Burglary

Oak St. Defendant Admits Entry Into W. 7th St. Business

A tell-tale strand of purple thread dangling from a button and a passerby's tentative identification led police Tuesday night to a man who confessed to burglarizing a finance company office and an auto agency, then stealing a brand new station wagon which was demolished against a St. Clair Ave. retaining wall three minutes later.

Lt. William E. McDaniel identified the suspect as John E. Hoback, 25, of 1201 Oak St., arrested for the burglary of East Liverpool Central Service, Inc., and Loan & Finance Corp., located in the same building at W. 7th and Jackson Sts., and theft of a 1963 model Plymouth station wagon driven out of the agency's garage.

At 10:13 last night, police received a report a man had been seen driving the new car out of the agency's garage without license plates. Three minutes later, police received the report of the auto crashing into a retaining wall on St. Clair Ave. near Grant St. The driver fled on foot.

Loot in the burglary at the auto agency and the loan office consisted only of candy and cigarettes, police said.

Entrance was gained by kicking an 18-x-24-inch pane of glass out of a door of the auto agency, officers said. The loan company office is located on the second floor. Both companies are operated by Basil Mangano.

In the auto agency, the intruder broke two vending machines, ripped four telephones off the wall and strewed paper and change on the floor. He also ransacked desks and damaged a cash register and the service counter, police said.

Going upstairs, the intruder entered the Loan & Finance office, where he ripped two more phones off the wall, ransacked desks and threw papers and a typewriter on the floor, police said.

A passerby told police he believed the driver was Hoback, explaining he and Hoback once lived in the same neighborhood.

In Hail Of Bullets

8 Red Germans Escape To West

BERLIN (AP)—Eight East German refugees crashed through three barriers into West Berlin before dawn today while the bullets of border guards rattled off their armor-plated bus.

Eight bullets hit the bus but only one man was injured, by flying glass when the windshield smashed.

The escapees were the owner of the bus, his driver, their wives and their four children. The children included three girls, 1, 3 and 13 years old and a boy of 10.

Police said the bus, of pre-war German manufacture, belonged to one of the few private contractors the Communist regime still permitted to operate.

The group drove 120 miles to Berlin from their homes at Neugersdorf, near the Oder-Neisse border between East Germany and Poland.

They had fitted metal plates inside the bus to protect themselves from the bullets they were certain the border guards would fire at them.

The bus swung around Berlin to come into the city on the autobahn from the west.

While the women and children lay on the floor, the contractor and the driver drove audaciously up to the control point at Babelsberg where vehicles heading for West Berlin are checked.

It was 5:30 a.m. and still dark.

Ignoring signals to halt, the driver drove the bus at top speed toward the steel and concrete barricades which stretch across the four-lane highway leaving only one lane for traffic.

There still was about 1½ miles of highway to go to the West Berlin city limits but the autobahn curves at this point, giving cover from the guards' fire.

Soviet Radio Broadcasts Best Wishes To America

By The Associated Press

Christmas 1962 lived up to the seasonal traditions of good will, good cheer, merry making, Christian religious observance and peace. There was a minimum of international discord to disturb the lull in what the world calls the cold war.

Moscow radio broadcast best wishes to the United States and urged good will between the two nations; then the Soviets set off another in their series of nuclear tests. The blast was the 24th of the current test series recorded by Sweden's seismological observatory at Uppsala.

Among the happiest celebrations anywhere were those of the 1,113 Cuban invasion captives delivered from Fidel Castro's prisons earlier in the week. They had the additional joyous word that 1,000 members of their families would be allowed to leave Cuba tonight and join them in the United States.

There was much over which the world could shudder and shiver—the continued jungle war in Viet Nam, the conflict between monarchists and republicans in the deserts of Yemen, the perennial prospect of trouble in the Congo, the wall in Berlin.

But the undeclared India-China border war remained quiet, and in most nations political leaders in Christmas greetings to their people spoke of peace with more assurance.

The message of Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker was an example: "Despite sorrow and hope unfulfilled—the message of the manger still comes to us across centuries to sustain our faith—the message of good will for all men and brotherhood for all creeds and races."

After the weeks of the Cuban crisis, Pope John XXIII in his

One Motorist Hurt And But One Cited In Holiday Series

Ten traffic mishaps, five of them hit - skip cases, marred holiday traffic in East Liverpool, but only one slight injury resulted, police reported.

But one motorist was cited as an aftermath of the crash series between Monday noon and Tuesday night. Officers said the pre-holiday traffic jam Monday afternoon contributed in part to some of the accidents.

Ralph Rogers, 55, of 1577 Cleveland Ave. was charged with driving while under the influence of alcochol after his 1962 model compact hit two parked cars Monday at 4:42 p.m. on Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Police said Rogers' auto, eastbound about 20 miles an hour, hit parked cars owned by William C. Brown, 151 Vernia St., and James Brown, 1560 Pennsylvania Ave.

Rogers was unable to give a statement explaining the crash, according to Patrolman Jack Strobel, who issued the citation.

Rogers is due for a hearing in Municipal Court Thursday at 9 a. m. before Acting Judge Lawrence W. Smith Jr.

The only mishap resulting in personal injury was timed at 3:48 p. m. Monday on Pennsylvania Ave.

Anderson Abbott, 500 1st Ave., was treated at City Hospital for a whiplash injury of the neck after his 1958 car was hit from the rear by a 1956 model auto operated by Jack Henry, 30, of 5th Ave., LaCroft.

Family Burned Out In Rural Home Fire

Mr. and Mrs. Athen Chaffin and their four pre - school-age children were burned out of their country dwelling north of Wellsville about 8:40 a.m. Christmas Day.

West Point firemen had two trucks and 30 men at the scene. The Highlandtown volunteer fire department sent two trucks and 20 men.

The Chaffins rented the farmhouse about a month ago. Neighbors said the family is residing temporarily with Mrs. Chaffin's mother in East Liverpool. Chaffin works in a mill at Midland.

Officials Delayed

President Gets Extra Holiday At Palm Beach

Kennedy had planned a mid-morning work session with Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon and others, to work toward final decisions on the administration plan to seek a 1963 tax cut.

The meeting was put off because fog in the snow-blanketed Washington area held up the departure of a jet transport assigned to bring more than half a dozen officials here for the conference.

Dillon was ready to interrupt his own vacation at nearby Hobe Sound, Fla., to take part in the talks on taxes and the economy.

Among those summoned from Washington were chairman Walter Heller of the Council of Economic Advisers, Undersecretary of the Treasury Henry Fowler and Assistant Secretary Stanley S. Surrey.

Kennedy's 5th graf

Kennedy's latest word on tax cut prospects came in an address to the Economic Club of New York on Dec. 14. Arguing that the present tax system acts as a brake on economic growth, he urged an early reduction in both individual and corporate tax rates, coupled with some tax reforms and a clampdown on federal spending.

Key questions at today's conference involved the strategy of pushing tax cut legislation through a Congress which has a vocal and influential segment that contends any lowering of taxes at this time would create a dangerously large federal budget deficit.

In this case, strategy goes to the substance of the issue because, as Kennedy made evident in his Dec. 14 address, the administration is willing to tailor its proposals to the mood of Congress.

For example, the President said that tax reforms—once envisioned as a major part of the administration program—could not be advocated solely for "academic reasons." He said any changes in existing provisions for special benefits could be justified only if they would contribute to economic growth.

Kennedy also backtracked on a second count. Where once he promised to seek a tax cut retroactive to next Jan. 1, he mentioned no effective date in his New York speech. This was no oversight.

Against this background, the administration's problem is to fashion a tax program that comes close to meeting its initial goals —and still win favor with Congress.

Fires And Other Mishaps Put Total Beyond 800 Mark

Tragedy marked the gay Christmas holiday in hundreds of homes across the nation, with a death toll of some 800 in traffic accidents, fires and miscellaneous mishaps.

The No. 1 killer, as usual, was traffic. With final figures still to come, the count showed 626 persons lost their lives in motor vehicle accidents during the four-day Christmas holiday. Fires killed 105 persons and 82 others were killed in a variety of accidents. The over-all total was 813.

The National Safety Council, which had estimated the traffic death toll at 650 to 750, said belated reports may boost the final figure close to 650. The count covered a period of 102 hours, from 6 p.m. (local time) last Friday to midnight Christmas.

There was a sharp rise in the traffic death rate on Christmas, due largely to the heavier travel, the homeward rush of millions and hazardous driving conditions in many sections of the country. At least 160 persons were killed in traffic accidents in the last 24 hours of the long holiday.

The number of traffic deaths compares with a record toll of 706 for a four-day Christmas observance in 1956. The 706 toll also is a record high for any holiday period. The lowest number of traffic fatalities in a four-day Christmas period since World War II was 535 in 1951. In last year's three-day Christmas holiday, traffic fatalities totaled 524.

400,000-Man Goal National Guard's Aim

Aggressive Drive Slated To Disprove McNamara Theory

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army National Guard—wearing a "we'll show McNamara" chip on its shoulder—will open an aggressive recruiting drive in the new year.

Informed sources, disclosing this today, said they are confident the Guard can reach its goal of 400,000 men. It now is about 25,000 short.

They indicated the effort will be spurred by a desire to disprove Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's skepticism that it can be done.

Earlier this year, McNamara sought to trim Army Guard and Reserve strength by 58,000 men on grounds it was not possible without lowering standards to recruit enough men to maintain the Guard at 400,000 and the Reserve at 300,000. Under his proposal, the Guard would have taken a 33,000-man cut and the Reserve a 25,000-man reduction.

Congress directed the Defense Department to make every effort to muster the higher strength without sacrificing quality. Since then the Army has boosted its standards for Guard and Reserve recruits, making it even tougher to reach the manpower objective.

A tell-tale strand of purple thread dangling from a button and a passerby's tentative identification led police Tuesday night to a man who confessed to burglarizing a finance company office and an auto agency, then stealing a brand new station wagon which was demolished against a St. Clair Ave. retaining wall three minutes later.

Lt. William E. McDaniel identified the suspect as John E. Hoback, 25, of 1201 Oak St., arrested for the burglary of East Liverpool Central Service, Inc., and Loan & Finance Corp., located in the same building at W. 7th and Jackson Sts., and theft of a 1963 model Plymouth station wagon driven out of the agency's garage.

At 10:13 last night, police received a report a man had been seen driving the new car out of the agency's garage without license plates. Three minutes later, police received the report of the auto crashing into a retaining wall on St. Clair Ave. near Grant St. The driver fled on foot.

Loot in the burglary at the auto agency and the loan office consisted only of candy and cigarettes, police said.

Entrance was gained by kicking an 18-x-24-inch pane of glass out of a door of the auto agency, officers said. The loan company office is located on the second floor. Both companies are operated by Basil Mangano.

In the auto agency, the intruder broke two vending machines, ripped four telephones off the wall and strewed paper and change on the floor. He also ransacked desks and damaged a cash register and the service counter, police said.

Going upstairs, the intruder entered the Loan & Finance office, where he ripped two more phones off the wall, ransacked desks and threw papers and a typewriter on the floor, police said.

A passerby told police he believed the driver was Hoback, explaining he and Hoback once lived in the same neighborhood.

In Hail Of Bullets

8 Red Germans Escape To West

BERLIN (AP)—Eight East German refugees crashed through three barriers into West Berlin before dawn today while the bullets of border guards rattled off their armor-plated bus.

Eight bullets hit the bus but only one man was injured, by flying glass when the windshield smashed.

The escapees were the owner of the bus, his driver, their wives and their four children. The children included three girls, 1, 3 and 13 years old and a boy of 10.

Police said the bus, of pre-war German manufacture, belonged to one of the few private contractors the Communist regime still permitted to operate.

The group drove 120 miles to Berlin from their homes at Neugersdorf, near the Oder-Neisse border between East Germany and Poland.

They had fitted metal plates inside the bus to protect themselves from the bullets they were certain the border guards would fire at them.

The bus swung around Berlin to come into the city on the autobahn from the west.

While the women and children lay on the floor, the contractor and the driver drove audaciously up to the control point at Babelsberg where vehicles heading for West Berlin are checked.

It was 5:30 a.m. and still dark.

Ignoring signals to halt, the driver drove the bus at top speed toward the steel and concrete barricades which stretch across the four-lane highway leaving only one lane for traffic.

There still was about 1½ miles of highway to go to the West Berlin city limits but the autobahn curves at this point, giving cover from the guards' fire.

Soviet Radio Broadcasts Best Wishes To America

By The Associated Press

Christmas 1962 lived up to the seasonal traditions of good will, good cheer, merry making, Christian religious observance and peace. There was a minimum of international discord to disturb the lull in what the world calls the cold war.

Moscow radio broadcast best wishes to the United States and urged good will between the two nations; then the Soviets set off another in their series of nuclear tests. The blast was the 24th of the current test series recorded by Sweden's seismological observatory at Uppsala.

Among the happiest celebrations anywhere were those of the 1,113 Cuban invasion captives delivered from Fidel Castro's prisons earlier in the week. They had the additional joyous word that 1,000 members of their families would be allowed to leave Cuba tonight and join them in the United States.

There was much over which the world could shudder and shiver—the continued jungle war in Viet Nam, the conflict between monarchists and republicans in the deserts of Yemen, the perennial prospect of trouble in the Congo, the wall in Berlin.

But the undeclared India-China border war remained quiet, and in most nations political leaders in Christmas greetings to their people spoke of peace with more assurance.

The message of Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker was an example: "Despite sorrow and hope unfulfilled—the message of the manger still comes to us across centuries to sustain our faith—the message of good will for all men and brotherhood for all creeds and races."

After the weeks of the Cuban crisis, Pope John XXIII in his

Auto Mishaps Total 10 With 5 As Hit-Skip

One Motorist Hurt And But One Cited In Holiday Series

Ten traffic mishaps, five of them hit - skip cases, marred holiday traffic in East Liverpool, but only one slight injury resulted, police reported.

But one motorist was cited as an aftermath of the crash series between Monday noon and Tuesday night. Officers said the pre-holiday traffic jam Monday afternoon contributed in part to some of the accidents.

Ralph Rogers, 55, of 1577 Cleveland Ave. was charged with driving while under the influence of alcochol after his 1962 model compact hit two parked cars Monday at 4:42 p.m. on Pennsylvania Ave., officers said.

Police said Rogers' auto, eastbound about 20 miles an hour, hit parked cars owned by William C. Brown, 151 Vernia St., and James Brown, 1560 Pennsylvania Ave.

Rogers was unable to give a statement explaining the crash, according to Patrolman Jack Strobel, who issued the citation.

Rogers is due for a hearing in Municipal Court Thursday at 9 a. m. before Acting Judge Lawrence W. Smith Jr.

The only mishap resulting in personal injury was timed at 3:48 p. m. Monday on Pennsylvania Ave.

Anderson Abbott, 500 1st Ave., was treated at City Hospital for a whiplash injury of the neck after his 1958 car was hit from the rear by a 1956 model auto operated by Jack Henry, 30, of 5th Ave., LaCroft.

Abbott told police his car was halted when hit by Henry's. There was damage to the rear of Ab-

Family Burned Out In Rural Home Fire

Mr. and Mrs. Athen Chaffin and their four pre - school-age children were burned out of their country dwelling north of Wellsville about 8:40 a.m. Christmas Day.

Ed Bergman, assistant chief of the West Point volunteer fire department, estimated $5,000 damage to the structure — a nine-room farmhouse owned by Ralph McCready of Wellsville, R.D. 1. It is on McCready Rd., one mile from the Yellow Creek Church.

West Point firemen had two trucks and 30 men at the scene. The Highlandtown volunteer fire department sent two trucks and 20 men.

The Chaffins rented the farmhouse about a month ago. Neighbors said the family is residing temporarily with Mrs. Chaffin's mother in East Liverpool. Chaffin works in a mill at Midland.

Martins Ferry Area Man Dies After Fall

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP) —Charles E. Canfield, 77, of Rt. 1, Martins Ferry, died in a hospital Tuesday several hours after plunging 50 feet from the roof of his home.

Coroner W. J. Shepard said Canfield, a retired carpenter, may have walked in his sleep and crawled onto the roof from his bedroom.

Weirton Bar That Ignored Sheriff Fined

When Hancock County Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny asks that county taverns close their doors for Christmas he means just that!

The sheriff personally closed a Weirton tavern on Christmas Day after the operator apparently ignored his request that bars remain shut from 6 o'clock Christmas Eve until this morning.

Alex Johnston, licensee of the People's Bar, was arrested Tuesday afternoon by Sheriff Manypenny and charged with possession of alcohol on licensed premises.

Although there is no state law against taverns operating during the holiday, Sheriff Manypenny has followed closely the practice each year of asking tavern operators to close early Christmas Eve and not resume business until Dec. 26.

Johnston's arrest was believed the first in more than five years of a tavern operator doing business on Christmas.

Meanwhile, Joseph Booth of Pittsburgh posted $212 bond before Herron for a hearing Thursday at 10 a. m. on a charge of driving while intoxicated and hit-skip. He was arrested by Chief William Webster of New Cumberland after striking a parked car in the village Monday night.

Route 30 Tavern Hit By Christmas Entry

Christmas Day burglars got an undetermined amount of change from three coin - operated machines at Higgs Inn on Route 30 north of East Liverpool, the sheriff's office reports.

Deputy Sheriff Herman Wellman said the thieves got in by removing a window frame at the rear of the building. They forced the cigarette, bowling and pool table machines.

Mrs. James Rose reported the burglary at 11:40 p. m. Tuesday. Personnel said the inn had been closed since 11 a. m. for Christmas.

Body Of Woman, 66, Is Found On Porch

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio (AP)—The body of Mrs. Ruby May Huffman, 66, was found Tuesday night on the porch at her home at nearby Barton. Coroner W. J. Shepard said she had frozen or bled to death.

Mrs. Huffman, a widow, had crossed a footbridge over a creek and apparently had fallen and cut herself on broken glass in the yard, then crawled to the porch.

Nine Are Injured In Train Accident

NEW YORK (AP)—A string of empty passenger cars rolled down an incline and collided headon with a Long Island Rail Road passenger train carrying some 40 Christmas Day commuters. Seven of them plus two trainmen were injured, police said.

Fire Destroys House Trailer

Fire destroyed a small house trailer at 1st and Jackson Sts. early Christmas morning, according to city firemen.

The firemen were summoned to the home of Carl Carnes at 5:08 a.m. They said the trailer was a total loss.

The front half was consumed by the flames and the other half was destroyed by heat, smoke and water.

Six men and two trucks responded.

Two minor calls were answered Monday evening. The first was at 5:07 to the home of Walter Johnson of Dodge St.

A boy had tossed a burning rag into the basement floor joist. The fire was out on arrival.

A smoke investigation was made at Varian's Bakery on E. 6th St. at 5:44 p.m. It was a short circuit in a lighting fixture, firemen said.

Special deviled eggs: chop cooked shrimp and add to the mashed and seasoned yolk mixture. Garnish each egg halve with a whole shrimp.

area families at the Salvation Army Citadel.

Under arrangements with the Rural Service Unit of the Wellsville SA branch, Wellsville families not serviced by the Southern Ruritan Club also received food and toys.

The Christmas project of the Army also included distribution of 945 new toys furnished by the East Liverpool Junior Chamber of Commerce under its "Toys for Tots" plan, and 500 to 600 renovated playthings.

Christmas Eve church services were well attended and a number of congregations held special services Tuesday.

The downtown had a low of 18 as the holiday dawned but nary a flake of snow fell. However, as if making up for the error, the Ohio weatherman forecast light snow by Thursday afternoon or night. Meanwhile, temperatures are to tumble with a low of 8 to 14 tonight after a day's high range of 22 to 28.

Indicative of the approach of the possible cold wave was the temperature trend downtown this morning — 29 degrees at 6 and 27 at 7.

The mercury dip followed a night of freezing rain and sleet that glazed otherwise clear highways.

The Leetonia garage of the State Highway Department said the situation began about midnight. The fall was light but cindering was required and all 18 trucks "hit the road" about 7:30 a. m.

Biting wind was to accompany the dip in the mercury today with some snow flurries and heavier squalls due for the upper tier of counties in Northeast Ohio.

Salt and cinder crews went to work early this morning on icy roads in Hancock County.

Julian Wilson, supervisor of the Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission, reported all primary roads in the county in good condition but advised motorists to use chains due to the icy surfaces.

A number of large trucks pulled to the sides of Route 30 and Route 66 this morning to await the cinder crews before attempting to maneuver on the slick grades. Ash trucks were on the job at 6 a.m.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol said the holiday traffic was not heavy. The highways in the county were reported to be slippery and ice covered this morning.

The Wintersville Highway Patrol near Steubenville said the holiday traffic ranged from moderate to heavy. There were 17 accidents investigated from the beginning of the reporting period Friday at 6 p. m.

He charged Atty. Gen. Kennedy was trying to move Hoffa's next federal court appearance, scheduled for Miami Jan. 4, out of the jurisdiction of the Tampa federal court. "Kennedy viciously stated some time ago that the case belonged in the Tampa court. Now he is trying to move it to Miami."

Asked about rumors of jury tampering, Hoffa said:

"It is the oldest trick in the world that when you displace a juror you think understands the situation, you discredit that juror or someone close to him.

"It is a disgrace, in my opinion, for anyone to make a statement that this jury was tampered with because if they had such a suspicion they should not have waited a month after their suspicion to remove this person, and not during the trial, but at the time they got their information."

Hearing Set For Pair Accused Of Burglary

EAST PALESTINE — Hearings are set Thursday at 1 p. m. before County Judge Herbert A. Arfman for two young men arrested by the sheriff's department on charges of a $20 burglary Friday night at Witmer Farm Implement Sales on Alternate Route 14 east of Washingtonville.

The defendants are Walter Thompson, 21, of Rogers, and Donald Manis, 19, of Salem, who are scheduled for arraignment in Eastern District Court here. Thompson is free on a $500 bond. Manis is in jail in default of the same bond.

Pickets Back At Piers In Dock Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Pickets returned to Hudson River piers today after a holiday lull in the strike by the International Longshoremen's Association that has hit ports fom Maine to Texas.

The union's strike headquarters said picket boats would be sent out only if some idle vessel tries to sail. Incoming vessels were permitted to dock without interference.

If the strike by some 60,000 longshoremen lasts long enough —it's now in its fourth day— three million pounds of potatoes aboard a docked Liberian freighter will start to sprout, said a spokesman for the ship's agent.

The perishable cargo was in the holds of the freighter Glenview, anchored in the Charleston, S.C., harbor.

"The (South Carolina) farmers are anxious to get delivery on the potatoes," the spokesman said, "but the union refused our plea."

The longshoremen claimed 100 per cent effectiveness in their strike, which is supported by the 50,000-member National Maritime Union.

The key issue in the dispute is the ship owners' demand that longshoremen work gangs be cut from 20 to 17 men. The ILA said it did not want to negotiate its men out of business in the name of automation.

bott's car and the front of Henry's, officers said.

Harry Hood, 68, of Park Ave. told police his car was turned completely around by the impact of a hit-skip collision Monday at 6:41 p. m. on Elizabeth St.

Hood reported he was driving east when his car was rammed from the rear. The other auto did not stop, he said.

Ralph S. Musuraca, 2601 St. Clair Ave., told police his 1956 two-door sedan was struck by an auto backing out of an alley near Spring Grove Ave. The offending motorist did not stop, Musuraca said. The crash damaged the left front door of his car.

Another Lisbon St. hit - skip crash was timed at 8:34 p. m. Tuesday. Gary M. Barnett, 18, of 1844 Lisbon St. told police he was driving north near Belmar St. and Wyoming Ave. when his 1955 two-door was hit by an oncoming car which crossed the center line.

The other auto did not stop, Barnett said. There was damage to the right front of his car.

Jack Menough, 715 W. 9th St., told police the entire right side of his parked 1962 two - door sedan was damaged in a hit-skip collision Tuesday at 8:34 p. m. on W. 9th St.

Menough said he heard a crash and looked outside to see the hit-skip car proceeding from the scene at a high rate of speed.

Another hit - skip crash involving a parked car occurred Monday night or Tuesday morning on Rigby St. Ronald A. Montgomery, 733 Rigby St., said his 1961 two-door sedan was damaged on the left side sometime between 11:30 p. m. Monday and 8:45 a.m. yesterday.

A crash at St. Clair Ave. and Walnut St. at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday involved 1958 model cars driven by Bertha Petty of Wellsville R.D. 1 and Joseph McNicol, 821 Chester Ave., officers said. The woman was turning from Walnut onto St. Clair and the Chester Ave. man was turning off St. Clair onto Walnut St.

A collision at 2:48 p. m. yesterday on Vine St. involved a 1957 two-door sedan driven by Stanley D. Simcox, 35, of 317 Jackson St. and a 1958 two - door sedan operated by Allen Clark, 38, of Lisbon St. Ext., officers said.

Simcox was driving north and Clark was proceeding south, they told police. There was damage to the front of each car.

Howard J. Fisher, 37, of Sunnyside Ave. told police his 1958 two-door sedan was damaged in a mishap at 3rd and Market Sts. Monday at 5:40 p.m.

Fisher told police he was halted for a traffic signal when a car ahead backed into his auto, damaging the grill and left front fender.

After the bumpers of the two vehicles had been pulled apart, the driver of the other car proceeded without identifying himself, he said. He furnished a license number and description of the car to police. It was traced to a man on St. Clair Ave., North Side.

Christmas

Christmas message described the year as one of "fear and trembling" but declared wisdom and prudence had avoided a war. He said this was a "sign for the year that is coming."

Churches in many lands were crowded as Christians paid homage to the Christ child and gave thanks for another year of what passes for peace in the nuclear age. In the Holy Land pilgrims jammed the Church of the Nativity in Bethlehem.

President Kennedy spent Christmas at Palm Beach, Fla. After presents under a tree for Caroline and John Jr., the President and Mrs. Kennedy attended Mass at St. Edward's Roman Catholic church, cruised in the 80-degree temperature Christmas afternoon aboard the presidential yacht, entertaining friends for egg nog and had a quiet Christmas dinner at their borrowed ocean-front residence.

It was a day of feasting and gift exchanges at the fireside in the United States where snow and rain spread over much of the country.

Sugar cookie dough is sometimes used as the base for cheese cake.

We think you'll agree it's just long enough to tell you some interesting facts about your electric bill!

■ What has happened to electricity prices?
While the price of nearly every item in your budget has gone up and up, the price you pay per unit of electricity has gone down in the past 25 years!*

■ Then—How come bills are higher?
You're using about 5½ times as much electricity as the average family of 25 years ago. Naturally, your bills are higher—but thanks to the lower unit price, they haven't gone up in proportion to your usage.

■ How do prices in Ohio compare with other states?

■ What makes Ohio's low prices possible?
Thanks to Ohio's historically favorable business climate, the electric companies have been able to raise the millions needed to make improvements. Through these improvements they have kept the price down. Your increased use of electricity has helped, too. (It's the principle of "cheaper by the dozen".)

■ How are future needs being met?
Ohio's eight electric companies will build as much generating capacity in the next ten years as they did in the past 75 years! As you add more of those wonderful electrical servants, you can be confident the electricity will be ready for you—before you need it. Ohio's investor-owned electric companies are building ahead to serve you.

Mating Call To Fatter Payrolls

James A. Rhodes' appointment of George E. Wilson of Akron to take the reins of his industrial development program gives the governor-elect's campaign proposal a ring of promise.

To date, Mr. Rhodes' program to pump new vitality into Ohio's industrial climate has not, despite his own enthusiasm, been widely acclaimed as an absolute answer to the state's needs. No one else can be as sure that his "new jobs" plan will work as he is.

But appointing Mr. Wilson, who helped draft the detailed recommendations that will be considered by the new General Assembly, gives the program a better chance of hitting the target.

It's a broad and bold program.

The report submitted to the governor-elect by James J. Nancy of Cleveland and Mr. Wilson places heavy emphasis on tax adjustments and research and development to encourage industrial growth.

WE DON'T KNOW how much of the program the General Assembly will buy. But Ohio must get moving—and fast—to compete with states turning themselves inside out to woo industry away from Ohio.

Businessmen, it must be admitted, do not think of loyalty as something they owe Ohio. They can be talked out of leaving the state by boomers from the South who come up with all kinds of holds and tricks.

Even Gov. Ross Barnett of Mississippi, hardly the prototype of what northerners admire in political leadership, was in Chicago twisting enterprise into his state—and away from Illinois.

OHIO IS NOT interested in the twisting specialized in by hard-sell boomers from the South.

It wants first of all to keep established enterprise here by giving it an even more favorable environment than enterprise traditionally has had in this state.

Beyond that, it wants to make Ohio's advantages known to industries and to capital looking for a new environment—to help new enterprise get started here and to give established enterprise that wants to make a fresh start a boost over the rough places.

Ohio needs to get into the job-wooing business on a big scale. We hope the Rhodes plan will be just the kind of mating call that will attract fatter payrolls

A comedian is making his New York debut at a night club, but who's to know? A singer of considerable national reputation drew only seven customers to a Cleveland night spot one recent evening.

The New York newspaper strike was only in its 7th day when the Wall Street Journal reported: "Funeral directors say attendance at funerals is down, and florists are selling fewer funeral sprays than usual."

People as well as store managements miss advertising. They don't know which movie is playing where, even though theaters have taken to the air in a big way. Opening a legitimate play in New York is murder without those opening night reviews.

The Miami-Nebraska Gotham Bowl football game on Dec. 14, for which a crowd of 20,000 to 30,000 had been anticipated, drew 6,100.

Editorials—those lovely conflicting opinions—sports, the columns and the comics, stock market quotations, specialized news (about business or labor, say), medical advice, crossword puzzles and other games, entertainment reading, home-making and other woman-only news—all this goes by the boards.

A leading personnel agency in Manhattan says its job applicants have dropped to half since the strike began.

Charitable appeals by the New York papers—notably the Fresh Air Fund of the New York Herald Tribune and the Neediest Cases Fund of the New York Times—have been hit especially hard.

These are a few effects of the newspaper strikes sandbagging New York and Cleveland. The blow to Christmas retail sales is too obvious to detail. Suffice it to say that if Christmas business doesn't hit a record this year, the newspaper strikes will bear a good part of the blame.

There is no disposition here to discuss the merits of either strike. The only purpose is to total up the score, to point out some things Clevelanders and New Yorkers are missing.

When Do You 'Scrub' A Project?

The Skybolt plot thickens by the hour.

On the day when President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan were sharing a meal of crow over a project being scrubbed because something called a Skybolt missile couldn't be fired successfully, a Skybolt missile was fired successfully.

During the week the Department of Defense was preparing public opinion at home and abroad for the shock that Skybolt was a failure, the manufacturer of the missile was buying costly advertising to tell a waiting world the missile was a thumping success.

Then there was the coincidence of that successful flight on the day the President was breaking the news to the prime minister that Britain's high-flying bombers, which were going to carry Skybolt missiles aloft and fire them from the air to the ground, no longer would be needed.

This was the same as telling the U.S. Air Force the Strategic Air Command was on its last legs, because the U.S. Navy and the Polaris submarine had edged out the stratospheric bomber in a generation-later rerun of the famous fight to prove that post World War I bombers could sink battleships.

The fly-boys won that one.

The Navy is winning this one, and it is possible there also is rejoicing in the British admiralty while the Royal Air Force's wings are drooping. If it weren't for that Skybolt missile which reportedly flew like a bird at the instant the Skybolt project was being scrubbed. . . .

How can that be accounted for?

The Last Man

By Truman Twill

Everything about a good meal is good to the last bite, which is hearsay when we slow-eaters dine away from home. We never get to the last bite.

In the contest to determine who can ingest the most groceries in the least time we aren't entered. We're bystanders.

Yet, it is taken for granted that our rate of ingestion should be determined by that of win, place and show eaters who are sponging the gravy off their chops about the time we ruminants are swallowing the second bite.

This is what we are — ruminants. It is an honorable thing to be, though awkward among gulpers and bolters. We have a problem.

As children, we were made to chew our food well. Some of us who were kids longer ago than others were made to Fletcherize our food, which meant grinding it as fine as it now is possible to grind food in an electric-powered grinding machine for reducing solids to a liquid state.

Our chewing habits were inculcated so deeply we can do nothing about them. It is impossible for us to swallow until everything has been ground to a consistency to delight the gods, whose mills also grind exceeding fine.

Besides a carryover from our early training, many of us have been carried away by the idea the table is an ideal place for conversation; that this distinguishes it from a feed trough.

Instead of coverting mealtime into a reversion to savagery, we convert it into a demonstration of civilized behavior. We keep our heads up out of our feeding dishes, look about us with equanimity and fill the air with bright remarks and witty sayings.

We resent it when these witticisms bounce off the bend heads of the trough-eaters by whom we are surrounded. We resent it when they, having gorged themselves, finally raise their greasy, spattered faces, swab off the bigger chunks of effluvia and snort, "Hay, you better get around some of that stuff or they'll take it back."

We do not go for threats, but we admit they are based on realistic practice in public eating places. It is not easy to be the last man at the table, being stared at by the beady eyes of all who finished eating 20 minutes ago and breathed on by the waitress who has been ordered to get that plate away from that double-decked, unprintable name of a name or turn in her apron.

It is not pleasant to keep on chewing under these circumstances. The stomach contracts and feels full. The mouth gets dry and the jaws grow tired.

Sometimes the only way out is to ask for a bowser bag on the thin pretext of taking the uneaten part home to a friend. And all this discomfiture is caused by the food-wolfing that goes on all about us for no reason, except that people never learned how much more fun it is to savor each bite on the way down and to linger over it like a lover lingers over a kiss.

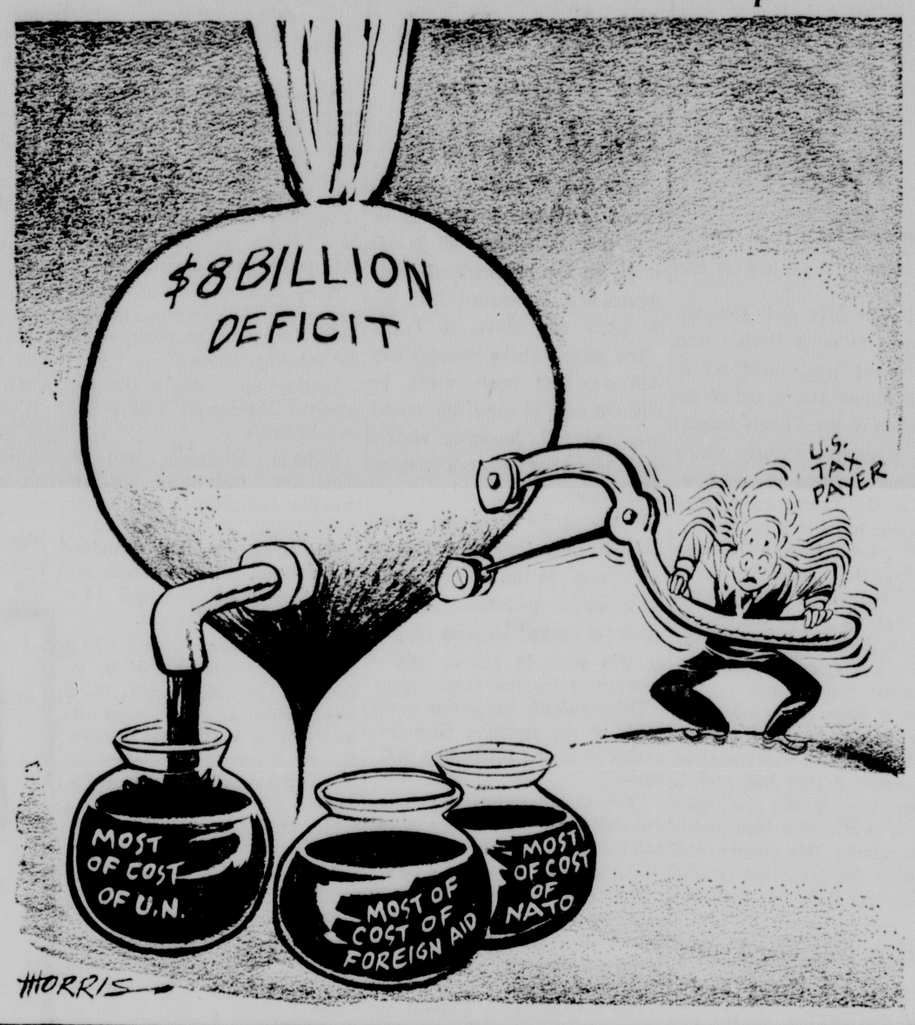
People are not, after all, lions and tigers. They are not even dogs, which still bolt their food because instinct warns them that if they dawdle over it another dog may get it and them too.

These are the thoughts we think on days when we have heartburn because we tried to close the gap between first and last place. We curse the day we were taught to chew our food well and "Watch your manners and get your face out of that plate!"

There oughta be a law — no food permitted to be eaten in less than one hour from appetizer to after-dinner mint.

Approximately 90 per cent of all fine furniture today is veneered. The remaining percentage consists of special styles or designs such as Early American or Colonial which calls for solid maple or cherry, and legs or similar turned pieces where veneering would be impractical and almost impossible.

You Can Get Blood Out Of A Turnip



Among Men Of Good Will

By Victor Riesel

It was good to be home by Christmas. But there was sadness among the merry cards of holiday greetings. A letter spoke of a race with death.

Victor Riesel

"As a sponsor whose moral support has aided the cause of the Cuban Families Committee for Liberation of Prisoners of War," said the note, "we earnestly hope you will lend any support within your power. . . ."

The note was from the families of many of the lads imprisoned after they hit the beach to liberate Cuba. How could I help? I made inquiries. And then I was proud to be home for Christmas. There was little I could do. It was being done.

Behind opaque secrecy a handful of men—of labor, of business, of transport, of science, of government—had coordinated a civilian air fleet, 26 railroads, 200 companies, some 20 unions, pilots, sailors, longshoremen, truckers, railroadmen, in one of the greatest mercy missions of recent times.

OPERATION RANSOM began early in the week of Dec. 10. Intelligence sources told the White House that Fidel Castro had agreed to exchange 1,113 prisoners—many of them stretcher cases—for some $53 million worth of drugs, medical supplies and special foods. The cost of the rescue operation itself was put at more than $22 million.

Nobody trusted Castro. But the word also came from the Russians. Few trusted them, either. But the massive rescue maneuver was launched by Bob Kennedy. He was told it would take some four months to deliver the strangest ransom in history to the Cuban Soviet.

A special action committee was set up inside the government. In one fashion or another, the Justice Department, the Labor Department, the Commerce Department, the State Department and even the Treasury Department were involved. And, of course, the White House and the intelligence services.

The objective was to put together this huge amount of material without involving the government officially. The decision was to coordinate this publicly through the Red Cross.

To each its own, in effect, was the operational slogan inside the government action group. One department contacted the railroads—26 of them were needed immediately, including the vital but tiny Port Everglades Belt Railway.

THIS IS the switching line which shunts the cars from the main line to the dock. Soon some 40 refrigerator cars and 40 box cars were assigned to haul the ransom from cities as far off as Indianapolis, Atlanta, Louisville, New Orleans and St. Joseph, Mo., I was told.

Then someone contacted Pan American for planes. And someone telephoned the Farrell Lines, which usually runs ships to Africa. It supplied the now famed African Pilot, a modified C4 with a crew of 52. Fifteen steamship lines agreed to pay all of the ship's operating costs. Now came the men, including a crew from the National Maritime Union.

Then a special problem arose. Labor was needed to load those planes and the ship. Civilian money had to be raised for this operation, too. A government agency contacted AFL-CIO president George Meany. He called on Paul Hall, the Paul Bunyanesque seafarers' chief, who doubles as president of the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Dept. He in turn worked with the department's executive secretary - treasurer, Peter McGavin.

THEY RECKONED they'd need from 300 to 500 men immediately to work round the clock. But who would pay for their labor? In the Fort Lauderdale area, for example, there was no stevedoring firm of size to pick up the tab as had the steamship lines and the railroads and the truckers who were hauling stuff to the rails.

Furthermore, brothers Meany and Hall and McGavin wanted labor to stand shoulder to shoulder with industry and government in Operation Ransom. So the labor leaders began recruiting the cargo handlers.

This was a man-sized job. At least 16 "gangs" of 20 each were needed to load the African Pilot. Others were required for the planes being sent in by Pan American. Soon the aircraft loaders and the longshoremen were "on deck." They agreed to work night and day at straight time. Teddy Gleason general organizer of the International Longshoremen's Association, got the men together. The cost came to $15,000. The Maritime Trades Department got the money up swiftly. By last weekend loading was almost completed, well ahead of schedule.

AT NO TIME did anyone know—anyone from the White House to the house of labor and the houses of business—whether Castro would keep his word. But our people gave of their time, their talents, their shoulders, their holiday hours on the chance they could get the prisoners from Cuba back to an adopted home by Christmas.

And that's why I am proud to be home for Christmas.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — About 100 baskets containing Christmas dinners were distributed among the needy in Chester by the Chester Helping Hands Club of which Dennis R. Linger was president.

Clerk of Courts John A. Noble was sworn in for his second term by Judge W. Frank Lones.

About 90 underprivileged children were entertained with Christmas parties by the Lions and Kiwanis Clubs, with R. C. Heddleston and Charles Beorn in charge.

TEN YEARS AGO — Radioman Keith Hackathorn left for Adak, Alaska, after one month with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Rosignol of Minerva St.

Christmas dinner orders for 125 were issued by the Salvation Army.

Twelfth Night

The Twelve Days of Christmas come to an end on Jan. 6, the traditional time to burn Christmas greens.

Twelfth Night, or Epiphany, is celebrated with many other customs, ceremonies and legends throughout the Christian world.

One of the most beautiful of all Epiphany rituals is the blessing of the Greek sponge divers at Tarpon Springs, Fla. A gold crucifix is cast into the waters to signify the baptism of Christ.

Latin peoples, in particular, regard Epiphany both as a solemn religious festival and the beginning of the pre-Lenten carnival season.

In the Philippines, Epiphany is the "Feast of the Three Kings", a time when Christmas decorations are taken down and children get a holiday bonus. The young ones call on their godparents to receive special gifts, over and above the Christmas booty.

Epiphany is observed festively all over the country, but it reaches heights of pageantry among southern Indians. The Otomis and Aztec descendants march to the shrine of the miraculous Lord of Chalma, in a valley southwest of Mexico City, in what is probably Mexico's greatest pilgrimage.

Who Decides?

By David Lawrence

Congress Urged To Save Skybolt

What's more important to spend around $4 billion next year toward a $20-billion program to win some propaganda contest a decade hence by landing a man on the moon, or to spend $2.5 billion now for Skybolt missiles to make sure that the people on earth are safe from a nuclear war every year of that same decade? Who is deciding the military policy of the United States — civilians with computers, or military men who know something about the unexpected hazards of war and the need for even an overabundant supply of weapons to keep the enemy checkmated?

David Lawrence

These are the fundamental questions involved in one of the most important military decisions that has ever confronted the United States. The issue is whether to abandon the Skybolt project and thereby write finis to the intercontinental strategic bomber of the U.S. Air Force, or to stop trying to guess what kind of war may be threatened and prepare instead to deter the enemy with weapons of all types for any kind of nuclear attack.

GRANTED that the Skybolt missile to be launched from bomber planes has not yet been perfected, and granted also that the United States has other missiles which are very deadly, the fact remains that antimissile defenses are rapidly being devised by the Soviets.

The time may come when intercontinental missiles on which main reliance is to be placed will be frustrated and rendered useless. The Soviets are spending billions a year developing antimissile defenses.

The U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff want the Skybolt project continued. But the civilians say "No."

Congress in the past has saved the nation from similar blunders by civilian officials.

Just before the Korean War, the executive branch of the government tried to cut the heart out of the defense budget, but fortunately, Congress had made available weapons which saved America from defeat in that war.

Congress will eventually have to settle the Skybolt controversy. Congress has the constitutional power to appropriate funds for duty to maintain and make regulations for the armed services.

The president is commander-in-chief of these forces but cannot alone decide what equipment shall be made available to them. That is the responsibility of Congress.

In an era of excessive spending on non-defense projects — which since 1954 has increased about $18 billion, while the rise on the defense side has been only about $8 billion — it seems strange some way couldn't be found to get the $2.5 billion next year for the Skybolt project.

THE MOST important strategy for the United States today is to make the armament race more and more expensive for the Soviets. The burden in the Soviet Union is growing intolerable and causing internal dissension. The Soviet people are being denied a better standard of living.

This is certainly not the time for the United States to economize on money for deterrent power. Economies can be readily applied instead to nondefense projects.

The argument is being made that the United States already has more than enough lethal weapons. President Kennedy stressed that point on television. But, unfortunately, this is really not the issue.

It is what defenses the Soviets have today and are likely to have in the next decade. There will not be time, for instance, at some future date suddenly to revive the Skybolt project.

Who is to say that the course of defense strategy may not demand these very bombers within a few years?

Bombers can fire the Skybolt anywhere from 1,000 miles away from selected targets. These cannot all be defended by the enemy.

The Skybolt missile has a mobility analagous to the Polaris missile, which is fired from underseas by roving submarines and can reach hundreds of targets.

GRAVE DECISIONS confront the United States.

The military man goes on the assumption he can never have too much defense or offense. At a time when lots of money is being spent on projects in the non-defense field that can really be postponed a year or two, it seems that funds could be found to assure the safety of the free world by producing all the military weapons that can be developed.

It may or may not be wise for the British to concentrate on Skybolt carrying bombers.

Each western European country must be provided with weapons best adapted to its own defense. But the necessity for the Skybolt project to be an integral part of the armament of the United States as a precaution against unknown contingencies is growing increasingly clear.

The free world combined must have an overwhelming force mobilized, and it must be kept up to date. For that's the only way to be sure that a deterrent power is really effective.

Trade With East Germany

WASHINGTON — Although the United States declines any recognition of Communist East Germany, it nevertheless permits American businessmen to do a little trading with that country, and vice-versa.

This was learned by the Herald Tribune News Service through a routine check with the Commerce Department here on the state of trade between the U.S. and the Soviet Union.

This trade is down, but Communist East Germany, the department said, is carrying on a tidy little business with the U.S., averaging perhaps $4 million yearly. American businessmen sell the East Germans between $2 and $3 million worth of merchandise annually.

In the case of East Germany—officially the German Democratic Republic—the two chief imports to the U.S. are typewriters and cameras, Commerce Department officials said.

Another product in some demand from the German Communists is mink fur. Smaller amounts of other types of fur also are exported to the U.S.

The American product most sought by the East Germans is tobacco, it was learned, a product which accounts for the bulk of U.S. trading with this Soviet Satellite. Considering freight and other charges, however, presumably only top Communists can afford the American product.

Department officials explained that American businessmen must obtain licenses for either import or export purposes. This enables control and limitation of the trade, and is true of American trading with all Iron Curtain nations.

"Would any American trade with East Germany?" a department official was asked.

"Why not?" was his reply, so long as it continues to be of such small proportions.

"There is no use closing all channels with East Germany," he went on, "simply because we do not recognize the political regime."

He declined any elaboration of this statement when reminded that the U.S. bars all trade with such other Communist or puppet nations as North Viet Nam, North Korea, Red China and Albania.

He did point out, however, that a large trade exists between East and West Germany, and added that the two countries' trade agreements even exclude tariffs. East Germans shipping their products to the U.S. must pay the regular import tariff for the particular type of merchandise.

This is paid for in dollars, as is the cost of the merchandise exported, by the Communists. U.S. buyers pay the German Reds in American dollars, too.

Commerce officials were noncommittal about the drop in U.S.-Soviet trade. The only updated figures obtainable this week were for U.S. imports from Russia.

These showed that during October, this country purchased $1.1 million worth of goods from the Soviets, compared with $2.1 million during September, and $2.2 million during October 1961.

The assumption is that current Soviet purchases in this country are about equal to those of the U.S. in Russia. Both sides bar the buying of strategic materials by the other.

The cost of the rescue operation itself was put at more than $22 million.

Nobody trusted Castro. But the word also came from the Russians. Few trusted them, either. But the massive rescue maneuver was launched by Bob Kennedy. He was told it would take some four months to deliver the strangest ransom in history to the Cuban Soviet.

A special action committee was set up inside the government. In one fashion or another, the Justice Department, the Labor Department, the Commerce Department, the State Department and even the Treasury Department were involved. And, of course, the White House and the intelligence services.

The objective was to put together this huge amount of material without involving the government officially. The decision was to coordinate this publicly through the Red Cross.

To each its own, in effect, was the operational slogan inside the government action group. One department contacted the railroads—26 of them were needed immediately, including the vital but tiny Port Everglades Belt Railway.

THIS IS the switching line which shunts the cars from the main line to the dock. Soon some 40 refrigerator cars and 40 box cars were assigned to haul the ransom from cities as far off as Indianapolis, Atlanta, Louisville, New Orleans and St. Joseph, Mo., I was told.

Then someone contacted Pan American for planes. And someone telephoned the Farrell Lines, which usually runs ships to Africa. It supplied the now famed African Pilot, a modified C4 with a crew of 52. Fifteen steamship lines agreed to pay all of the ship's operating costs. Now came the men, including a crew from the National Maritime Union.

Then a special problem arose. Labor was needed to load those planes and the ship. Civilian money had to be raised for this operation, too. A government agency contacted AFL-CIO president George Meany. He called on Paul Hall, the Paul Bunyanesque seafarers' chief, who doubles as president of the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Dept. He in turn worked with the department's executive secretary - treasurer, Peter McGavin.

THEY RECKONED they'd need from 300 to 500 men immediately to work round the clock. But who would pay for their labor? In the Fort Lauderdale area, for example, there was no stevedoring firm of size to pick up the tab as had the steamship lines and the railroads and the truckers who were hauling stuff to the rails.

Furthermore, brothers Meany and Hall and McGavin wanted labor to stand shoulder to shoulder with industry and government in Operation Ransom. So the labor leaders began recruiting the cargo handlers.

This was a man-sized job. At least 16 "gangs" of 20 each were needed to load the African Pilot. Others were required for the planes being sent in by Pan American. Soon the aircraft loaders and the longshoremen were "on deck." They agreed to work night and day at straight time. Teddy Gleason general organizer of the International Longshoremen's Association, got the men together. The cost came to $15,000. The Maritime Trades Department got the money up swiftly. By last weekend loading was almost completed, well ahead of schedule.

AT NO TIME did anyone know—anyone from the White House to the house of labor and the houses of business—whether Castro would keep his word. But our people gave of their time, their talents, their shoulders, their holiday hours on the chance they could get the prisoners from Cuba back to an adopted home by Christmas.

And that's why I am proud to be home for Christmas.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — About 100 baskets containing Christmas dinners were distributed among the needy in Chester by the Chester Helping Hands Club of which Dennis R. Linger was president.

Clerk of Courts John A. Noble was sworn in for his second term by Judge W. Frank Lones.

About 90 underprivileged children were entertained with Christmas parties by the Lions and Kiwanis Clubs, with R. C. Heddleston and Charles Beorn in charge.

TEN YEARS AGO — Radioman Keith Hackathorn left for Adak, Alaska, after one month with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Rosignol of Minerva St.

Christmas dinner orders for 125 were issued by the Salvation Army.

Twelfth Night

The Twelve Days of Christmas come to an end on Jan. 6, the traditional time to burn Christmas greens.

Twelfth Night, or Epiphany, is celebrated with many other customs, ceremonies and legends throughout the Christian world.

One of the most beautiful of all Epiphany rituals is the blessing of the Greek sponge divers at Tarpon Springs, Fla. A gold crucifix is cast into the waters to signify the baptism of Christ.

Latin peoples, in particular, regard Epiphany both as a solemn religious festival and the beginning of the pre-Lenten carnival season.

In the Philippines, Epiphany is the "Feast of the Three Kings", a time when Christmas decorations are taken down and children get a holiday bonus. The young ones call on their godparents to receive special gifts, over and above the Christmas booty.

Epiphany is observed festively all over the country, but it reaches heights of pageantry among southern Indians. The Otomis and Aztec descendants march to the shrine of the miraculous Lord of Chalma, in a valley southwest of Mexico City, in what is probably Mexico's greatest pilgrimage.

Congress Urged To Save Skybolt

What's more important to spend around $4 billion next year toward a $20-billion program to win some propaganda contest a decade hence by landing a man on the moon, or to spend $2.5 billion now for Skybolt missiles to make sure that the people on earth are safe from a nuclear war every year of that same decade? Who is deciding the military policy of the United States — civilians with computers, or military men who know something about the unexpected hazards of war and the need for even an overabundant supply of weapons to keep the enemy checkmated?

David Lawrence

These are the fundamental questions involved in one of the most important military decisions that has ever confronted the United States. The issue is whether to abandon the Skybolt project and thereby write finis to the intercontinental strategic bomber of the U.S. Air Force, or to stop trying to guess what kind of war may be threatened and prepare instead to deter the enemy with weapons of all types for any kind of nuclear attack.

GRANTED that the Skybolt missile to be launched from bomber planes has not yet been perfected, and granted also that the United States has other missiles which are very deadly, the fact remains that antimissile defenses are rapidly being devised by the Soviets.

The time may come when intercontinental missiles on which main reliance is to be placed will be frustrated and rendered useless. The Soviets are spending billions a year developing antimissile defenses.

The U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff want the Skybolt project continued. But the civilians say "No."

Congress in the past has saved the nation from similar blunders by civilian officials.

Just before the Korean War, the executive branch of the government tried to cut the heart out of the defense budget, but fortunately, Congress had made available weapons which saved America from defeat in that war.

Congress will eventually have to settle the Skybolt controversy. Congress has the constitutional power to appropriate funds for duty to maintain and make regulations for the armed services.

The president is commander-in-chief of these forces but cannot alone decide what equipment shall be made available to them. That is the responsibility of Congress.

In an era of excessive spending on non-defense projects — which since 1954 has increased about $18 billion, while the rise on the defense side has been only about $8 billion — it seems strange some way couldn't be found to get the $2.5 billion next year for the Skybolt project.

THE MOST important strategy for the United States today is to make the armament race more and more expensive for the Soviets. The burden in the Soviet Union is growing intolerable and causing internal dissension. The Soviet people are being denied a better standard of living.

This is certainly not the time for the United States to economize on money for deterrent power. Economies can be readily applied instead to nondefense projects.

The argument is being made that the United States already has more than enough lethal weapons. President Kennedy stressed that point on television. But, unfortunately, this is really not the issue.

It is what defenses the Soviets have today and are likely to have in the next decade. There will not be time, for instance, at some future date suddenly to revive the Skybolt project.

Who is to say that the course of defense strategy may not demand these very bombers within a few years?

Bombers can fire the Skybolt anywhere from 1,000 miles away from selected targets. These cannot all be defended by the enemy.

The Skybolt missile has a mobility analagous to the Polaris missile, which is fired from underseas by roving submarines and can reach hundreds of targets.

GRAVE DECISIONS confront the United States.

The military man goes on the assumption he can never have too much defense or offense. At a time when lots of money is being spent on projects in the non-defense field that can really be postponed a year or two, it seems that funds could be found to assure the safety of the free world by producing all the military weapons that can be developed.

It may or may not be wise for the British to concentrate on Skybolt carrying bombers.

Each western European country must be provided with weapons best adapted to its own defense. But the necessity for the Skybolt project to be an integral part of the armament of the United States as a precaution against unknown contingencies is growing increasingly clear.

The free world combined must have an overwhelming force mobilized, and it must be kept up to date. For that's the only way to be sure that a deterrent power is really effective.

Trade With East Germany

WASHINGTON — Although the United States declines any recognition of Communist East Germany, it nevertheless permits American businessmen to do a little trading with that country, and vice-versa.

This was learned by the Herald Tribune News Service through a routine check with the Commerce Department here on the state of trade between the U.S. and the Soviet Union.

This trade is down, but Communist East Germany, the department said, is carrying on a tidy little business with the U.S., averaging perhaps $4 million yearly. American businessmen sell the East Germans between $2 and $3 million worth of merchandise annually.

In the case of East Germany—officially the German Democratic Republic—the two chief imports to the U.S. are typewriters and cameras, Commerce Department officials said.

Another product in some demand from the German Communists is mink fur. Smaller amounts of other types of fur also are exported to the U.S.

The American product most sought by the East Germans is tobacco, it was learned, a product which accounts for the bulk of U.S. trading with this Soviet Satellite. Considering freight and other charges, however, presumably only top Communists can afford the American product.

Department officials explained that American businessmen must obtain licenses for either import or export purposes. This enables control and limitation of the trade, and is true of American trading with all Iron Curtain nations.

"Would any American trade with East Germany?" a department official was asked.

"Why not?" was his reply, so long as it continues to be of such small proportions.

"There is no use closing all channels with East Germany," he went on, "simply because we do not recognize the political regime."

He declined any elaboration of this statement when reminded that the U.S. bars all trade with such other Communist or puppet nations as North Viet Nam, North Korea, Red China and Albania.

He did point out, however, that a large trade exists between East and West Germany, and added that the two countries' trade agreements even exclude tariffs. East Germans shipping their products to the U.S. must pay the regular import tariff for the particular type of merchandise.

This is paid for in dollars, as is the cost of the merchandise exported, by the Communists. U.S. buyers pay the German Reds in American dollars, too.

Commerce officials were noncommittal about the drop in U.S.-Soviet trade. The only updated figures obtainable this week were for U.S. imports from Russia.

These showed that during October, this country purchased $1.1 million worth of goods from the Soviets, compared with $2.1 million during September, and $2.2 million during October 1961.

The assumption is that current Soviet purchases in this country are about equal to those of the U.S. in Russia. Both sides bar the buying of strategic materials by the other.

League Of Nations Opponent

Austin, Former Senator And U.N. Figure, Claimed

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—Warren R. Austin, 85, who campaigned against U.S. entry in the League of Nations after World War I, and became U.S. ambassador to the United Nations after World War II, died at his home Tuesday.

Austin, a Republican, turned internationalist in the 1930s when he supported Franklin D. Roosevelt's foreign policy while opposing him on domestic issues.

He served in the Senate from 1931 until he was appointed to the U.N. mission by former President Harry S. Truman in 1946. He became head of the mission until 1953 when he was succeeded by Henry Cabot Lodge.

It was Austin who led the fight for a U.N. resolution naming Communist China as the aggressor in Korea after the Reds came to the rescue of the North Koreans when they had been mauled by U.N. forces in 1950.

He accused Red China of trying "to shoot its way into the United Nations, and dramatically produced a 1950 model Soviet machine gun captured from the Korean Reds as proof.

The Soviet delegate, Jacob A. Malik, left the Security Council room rather than examine the gun.

Told of Austin's death, Truman said in his Independence, Mo., home: "I'm sorry as I can be to hear about his death. He was an able and distinguished senator and did a wonderful job while he was in the public service."

Austin was born in Highgate, Vt. and after graduation from the University of Vermont, entered his father's law office. He was admitted to the bar in 1902.

He married Mildred Marie Lucas, whom he had met at college, 61 years ago. She was with him when he died. They had two sons, Warren Jr., and Col. Edward Lucas Austin of the U.S. Army.

Nina II Lands After Effort To Retrace Voyage

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—Nina II, a close copy of the smallest of Christopher Columbus' ships, reached San Salvador Island Tuesday night 117 days after sailing from Spain in an effort to retrace the voyage of discovery.

The Nina II sailed from Palos, Spain, with a nine-man crew on Sept. 19, hoping to reach land at San Savador at the eastern fringe of the Bahamas on Oct. 12, the place and date that Columbus made his famous landfall in 1492.

Columbus' three ships, the Santa Maria, Pinta and Nina, sailed from Spain on Aug. 3, 1492, with 120 men and made the voyage in 70 days.

Aboard Nina II were the captain, Carlos Etayo, 42, a retired Spanish naval lieutenant who long dreamed of the venture and financed the building of the ship; Robert Marx, 28, a Pittsburgh-born underwater explorer; Michel Viales, a Frenchman, and six other Spaniards.

The ship, a 40-foot caravel built of oak from plans of the Nina in the Columbus Museum in Spain, carried no radio, engine or other modern equipment. Its crew lived on food such as the 1492 crew had—lentils, honey, rice, beans and biscuits — and depended on 15th century navigation instruments.

Frigid Air Sweeps Into Central U.S.

By The Associated Press

Frigid air, fanned by brisk westerly winds, swept across the Canadian border into the north central region today, dropping temperatures far below zero.

Cold air also covered broad areas from the Pacific Northwest into eastern sections of the country. Temperatures edged toward the zero mark in the Texas Panhandle.

There was more snow atop the blanket of white reported in many parts of the country on Christmas Day. Rain and sleet hit some Southern sections. Driving conditions were hazardous in many parts of the wet belt.

The mercury dropped sharply as the icy air spread through the eastern Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and northern and northwest sections of Illinois.

Temperatures in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., dropped 32 degrees in about 12 hours, hitting a low of 20 below zero near midnight, the season's lowest mark. It was colder in International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian border, with a reading of -26.

The low mark in Iowa was -25 in Emmetsburg, in the northwestern part of state. Other sub-zero readings included 21 in Eau Claire, Wis., 20 in Duluth and 6 in Rockford, Ill. It was below zero in northwest suburbs of Chicago and zero in Chicago.

Fog and low clouds were reported in most of the southeast section of the country. Utility poles and lines snapped because of accumulation of ice in some areas of Atlanta and northeastward. Residents in the Toccoa, Gainesville and Cornelia area were without electricity and telephone service Tuesday night.

Snow covered much of west Texas and the Texas Panhandle on Christmas. Freezing rain, with mixed sleet and snow was forecast.

In Tennessee, only traces of the 3 to 5-inch snowfall on Christmas remained on most of the highways but fog shrouded many areas. It was the first white Christmas in Memphis since 1913 and the first in Nashville since 1935.

Snow covered most of Kentucky, except northern portions, with five inches in southeast areas. More snow was indicated.

There was a blanket of white across much of Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Colorado, Wyoming and most of Wisconsin. A 3-inch fall in Ponca City was the heaviest amount in northern Oklahoma. Freezing drizzle dampened other parts of Oklahoma. In New Mexico, snow covered most northern regions. Icy conditions were reported throughout the state.

Baltimore's three inches of snow was the first Christmas snowfall to measure more than a trace in the Maryland metropolis since 1909.

Light snow fell in most of New England, New York State, not including New York City, Pennsylvania, Ohio and in parts of New Jersey. The snow in New Jersey turned to rain.

In the Far West, cold air moved into Utah, dropping temperatures far below normal. Nearly a foot of snow was dumped in Cedar City. It also was cold in Oregon and Washington but skies were mostly clear. Readings were near zero Tuesday in Bend and Redmond, Ore., and 9 above in eastern parts of Washington.

Hatfield was cited in a collision that involved his auto and another driven by Jane N. Rife of Fisher Ave. Acting Judge Lawrence W. Smith Jr. imposed the fine.

William L. McCoy, 306 Broadway, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of driving without a license. His case had been continued from Nov. 26 to allow him to obtain a new permit. The fine was suspended on payment of the $7.50 costs.

The 102-hour Christmas holiday period concluded with a lower-than-predicted Ohio traffic toll. Still, at least 19 persons died as a result of motor vehicle accidents—and another 102 hours of counting start Friday night when the New Year's season comes in.

The Department of Highway Safety's forecast for each of the long holiday weekends was 26 traffic deaths. It makes no predictions for the in-between time, today until Friday evening, when more danger lurks as evidenced by hazardous driving warnings issued by the Weather Bureau and Highway Patrol.

The toll was relatively light on Christmas Day itself. But Ross County (Chillicothe) had two deaths, one from a crash the night before, that ran the total there alone to four dead in three highway crashes within 24 hours.

Those killed around the state between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Tuesday ranged from a 3-month-old Cincinnati boy to an 84-year-old Lebanon man.

There were at least three non-traffic fatalities, all in separate fires — two children and an adult.

The Christmas Eve and Christmas Day fatalities reported to the Associated Press:

Monday

Leo N. Kellhoffer II, 18, Rt. 1, Londonderry (Ross), in a one-car accident on U.S. 335 eight miles east of Chillicothe.

George Moore, 5, in a fall from his parents' moving car on Ohio 69 near the Clark-Montgomery County line.

Ronald Chandler, 3 months, Cincinnati, in a two-car crash in Cincinnati.

Tuesday

Edward Moss, 21, Chillicothe, when his car went out of control on U. S. 23 three miles south of Chillicothe.

Edward Simpson, 84, Rt. 2, Lebanon, of injuries sustained Sunday in a two-car collision on Ohio 48 south of Dayton.

Mrs. Clara Hackworth, 59, Columbus, of injuries suffered Monday night as a passenger in a car that collided with the one in which Richard Bell was killed on U. S. 23 south of Chillicothe.

Ohio's General Fund Slips Down To $8.4 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Payment of public school subsidies left the state with only $8.4 million in non-earmarked general funds at the end of November, Finance Director James H. Maloon reported today.

The report, to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, said the total compares with $23.1 million in the cash position at the end of October.

Maloon said $43.3 million went to schools under the quarterly foundation program. He added that an additional $15.1 million in state payments to teacher and school employe retirement funds would be made this month from utility excise tax receipts. Payments to the funds were delayed for lack of ready cash.

During November, the cash balance in all funds dropped from $186 million to $158 million, Maloon said.

The finance chief predicted that with payment of utility excise taxes, "an increased balance should remain in the general revenue fund at the end of December, after payments to the retirement systems." He did not estimate the amount.

A footnote in the report said $11.8 million in general fund encumbrances were outstanding at the end of November for goods and other items on which invoices and vouchers have not been received.

Frigid Air Sweeps Into Central U.S.

By The Associated Press

Frigid air, fanned by brisk westerly winds, swept across the Canadian border into the north central region today, dropping temperatures far below zero.

Cold air also covered broad areas from the Pacific Northwest into eastern sections of the country. Temperatures edged toward the zero mark in the Texas Panhandle.

There was more snow atop the blanket of white reported in many parts of the country on Christmas Day. Rain and sleet hit some Southern sections. Driving conditions were hazardous in many parts of the wet belt.

The mercury dropped sharply as the icy air spread through the eastern Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa and northern and northwest sections of Illinois.

Temperatures in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., dropped 32 degrees in about 12 hours, hitting a low of 20 below zero near midnight, the season's lowest mark. It was colder in International Falls, Minn., on the Canadian border, with a reading of -26.

The low mark in Iowa was -25 in Emmetsburg, in the northwestern part of state. Other sub-zero readings included 21 in Eau Claire, Wis., 20 in Duluth and 6 in Rockford, Ill. It was below zero in northwest suburbs of Chicago and zero in Chicago.

Fog and low clouds were reported in most of the southeast section of the country. Utility poles and lines snapped because of accumulation of ice in some areas of Atlanta and northeastward. Residents in the Toccoa, Gainesville and Cornelia area were without electricity and telephone service Tuesday night.

Snow covered much of west Texas and the Texas Panhandle on Christmas. Freezing rain, with mixed sleet and snow was forecast.

In Tennessee, only traces of the 3 to 5-inch snowfall on Christmas remained on most of the highways but fog shrouded many areas. It was the first white Christmas in Memphis since 1913 and the first in Nashville since 1935.

Snow covered most of Kentucky, except northern portions, with five inches in southeast areas. More snow was indicated.

There was a blanket of white across much of Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Colorado, Wyoming and most of Wisconsin. A 3-inch fall in Ponca City was the heaviest amount in northern Oklahoma. Freezing drizzle dampened other parts of Oklahoma. In New Mexico, snow covered most northern regions. Icy conditions were reported throughout the state.

Baltimore's three inches of snow was the first Christmas snowfall to measure more than a trace in the Maryland metropolis since 1909.

Light snow fell in most of New England, New York State, not including New York City, Pennsylvania, Ohio and in parts of New Jersey. The snow in New Jersey turned to rain.

In the Far West, cold air moved into Utah, dropping temperatures far below normal. Nearly a foot of snow was dumped in Cedar City. It also was cold in Oregon and Washington but skies were mostly clear. Readings were near zero Tuesday in Bend and Redmond, Ore., and 9 above in eastern parts of Washington.

Hatfield was cited in a collision that involved his auto and another driven by Jane N. Rife of Fisher Ave. Acting Judge Lawrence W. Smith Jr. imposed the fine.

What's In Store In 1963?

No Bust, But No Boom Seen For U.S. Economy

By NATE POLOWETZKY
AP General Business Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—What does 1963 hold in store for the U.S. economy?

For months the question has been argued, analyzed and dissected. The answer? A year of continuing general prosperity, of continuing high business activity, but no soaring upswing.

In short, neither bust nor boom.

Even at that, the prospect is much better than it was a few months ago when businessmen, economists, and some government spokesmen freely predicted an early recession in 1963.

But a late pickup in business activity, the prospect of a tax cut, high auto sales, higher consumer spending, and a restoration of national confidence as a result of the Cuban crisis, brought about a new reevaluation for the year.

The thick gloom of late summer and early autumn has disappeared. The pessimists have retreated. And the widespread talk of recession is no longer to be heard.

The "X" factor in how the economy performs next year is the tax cut.

President Kennedy has promised a slash in corporate and individual taxes. He has been joined in this by leading members of this administration and by a great majority of the business and financial communities.

But how much the tax cut will be, and what form it will take, and just who will benefit from it, is still unclear.

Kennedy himself has not spelled it out. Some powerful congressional forces have already objected to a "quickie" reduction, some demanding concommitant drops in federal expenditures to make up for the loss in revenue, others saying the economy is healthy enough without a cut.

The argument for a tax cut is that it is needed not so much to forestall a possible recession, but to jog the economy out of its sluggish rate of growth by pouring more money—both corporate and consumer—into it.

On a statistical basis, government economists expect the gross national product—the value of all goods and services—will total $575 billion to $580 billion in the year ahead.

This will be a record, about $25 billion above 1962.

Government spending will contribute greatly to the health of the economy. A new high of about $126.4 billion is expected to be poured into the economy next year by federal, state and local governments for goods and services.

But if any boom occurs during the year—and this isn't in the cards—it won't come from this source, but rather from the average consumer.

She was married June 30, 1938, to Detmer D. Spear. She was a member of Grace Lutheran Church, the Rebekah Lodge and the Pythian Sisters.

In addition to her mother and her husband, she leaves one son, Robert Spear, two brothers, Raymond Lindsay and Clifford Greaves, and another sister, Mrs. Inez Knopp, all of East Palestine.

Services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 at the Dawson Funeral Home by the Rev. S. H. Estel of the Oakland Free Methodist Church. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

What's In Store In 1963?

No Bust, But No Boom Seen For U.S. Economy

By NATE POLOWETZKY
AP General Business Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—What does 1963 hold in store for the U.S. economy?

For months the question has been argued, analyzed and dissected. The answer? A year of continuing general prosperity, of continuing high business activity, but no soaring upswing.

In short, neither bust nor boom.

Even at that, the prospect is much better than it was a few months ago when businessmen, economists, and some government spokesmen freely predicted an early recession in 1963.

But a late pickup in business activity, the prospect of a tax cut, high auto sales, higher consumer spending, and a restoration of national confidence as a result of the Cuban crisis, brought about a new reevaluation for the year.

The thick gloom of late summer and early autumn has disappeared. The pessimists have retreated. And the widespread talk of recession is no longer to be heard.

The "X" factor in how the economy performs next year is the tax cut.

President Kennedy has promised a slash in corporate and individual taxes. He has been joined in this by leading members of this administration and by a great majority of the business and financial communities.

But how much the tax cut will be, and what form it will take, and just who will benefit from it, is still unclear.

Kennedy himself has not spelled it out. Some powerful congressional forces have already objected to a "quickie" reduction, some demanding concommitant drops in federal expenditures to make up for the loss in revenue, others saying the economy is healthy enough without a cut.

The argument for a tax cut is that it is needed not so much to forestall a possible recession, but to jog the economy out of its sluggish rate of growth by pouring more money—both corporate and consumer—into it.

On a statistical basis, government economists expect the gross national product—the value of all goods and services—will total $575 billion to $580 billion in the year ahead.

This will be a record, about $25 billion above 1962.

Government spending will contribute greatly to the health of the economy. A new high of about $126.4 billion is expected to be poured into the economy next year by federal, state and local governments for goods and services.

But if any boom occurs during the year—and this isn't in the cards—it won't come from this source, but rather from the average consumer.

Looming large over the economic picture, like an ominous dark cloud, is the question of unemployment.

Manuel Artime, who was political leader on the invasion force, said in Miami he and his comrades have "a moral obligation to return to Cuba."

Artime said he didn't know yet how that would be accomplished.

James B. Donovan, New York attorney who acted as chief negotiator for the prisoners' release, got a hero's welcome when he returned from Havana with the last plane load of liberated captives.

Tired but beaming, Donovan said Castro had promised to discuss an early release of Americans he has imprisoned for anti-Castro activities. There are 23, serving sentences up to 30 years.

The Swiss Embassy, which handles United States affairs in Cuba since a 1960 break in diplomatic relations, is working toward obtaining freedom for the Americans and a Swiss informant indicated that arrangements had not hit any snags.

Officers of the African Pilot said in Havana that the first of the prisoner relatives were scheduled to go aboard at 10 a.m. today. The African Pilot's departure was planned for 5 p.m., with arrival at Port Everglades 14 hours later. Both target times, of course, are subject to revision in event of delays.

The ransom voyage to Cuba, with an $11 million down payment in drugs and baby food, and the return trip will write finis to the 400-foot African Pilot's 20-year log of ocean service. The craft is to go into "mothball" storage status because of its age.

Christmas with their families in Miami was a happy day for the invasion veterans, but a quiet one by contrast with their arrival at Homestead Air Force Base and reunion with loved ones.

One of the freed captives, the Rev. Tomas Macho, said Christmas night Mass at Miami's Gesu Roman Catholic Church. The church, a gathering point of the exile colony, was jammed for the Mass and brief Spanish language sermon.

Puzzle Posed In Palestine's Plant Project

EAST PALESTINE — A puzzle has been posed for municipal officials in a $1 million improvement project at the city-owned power plant by a Milwaukee concern's decision to withdraw from the manufacture of steam-powered generating equipment.

The Allis - Chalmers Corp., awarded a $272,000 contract in October to supply a 7,500 - kilowatt generator for the power plant, announced to its stock-holders last Thursday it no longer will manufacture such generating equipment.

Mayor Robert Harding said he was advised of the company's decision shortly after it had been announced at the firm's home office in Milwaukee by Robert Stevenson, president.

Mayor Harding said no decision has been reached on the city's next move. He said he already has conferred with officials of the company's Youngstown office, who represented Allis - Chalmers when the bids were opened.

The possibility has been mentioned that the contract might be let to a sub-contractor. One of the principal reasons for concern is the availability of replacement parts at a later date, the mayor said.

Allis-Chalmers was one of six bidders when the city opened offers on the generating equipment about two months ago. It holds a contract for delivery of the generator in 18 months.

The Allis-Chalmers president announced his company's decision last Thursday to the shareholders. Mayor Harding said he was advised shortly afterward.

Mayor Robert Harding has called a public meeting for Friday night at 8 at City Hall in order to obtain opinions on what should be done.

Officers checked Hoback's home, but could not find him. They said they located him later at a friend's house. Hoback's shirt had no missing button when he was found, police said. However, at his home they said they found a shirt with a button missing. It matched the button and the thread found in the wrecked car, police said.

After long questioning, Hoback admitted he was responsible for the burglaries and the auto theft, Lt. McDaniel said.

Hoback was held to the January Grand Jury when he pleaded guilty this morning before Acting Municipal Judge Lawrence W. Smith Jr. on both charges—the breaking and entering of Central Service and theft of the auto. He signed a written plea in each case, also waiving preliminary hearings.

His bond was set at $1,000 in each case and he was returned to jail in default.

Ex-U.S. Sen. Green Has Quiet Christmas

A small tree, several bouquets of poinsettias and other flowers, and an array of cards decorated his room.

He remained in critical condition. He suffered a series of slight cerebral strokes a week ago. He is 95.

2 In Industry Crashes Hurt

Industry police investigated two accidents Monday evening on Route 68 in which two persons received minor injuries.

Miss Barbara Campbell of Industry R. D. 1 suffered possible injury to the right ankle and knee and was treated at Rochester General Hospital Monday at 8:05 p. m. Her father, Ellis Campbell, the driver, suffered several possible broken ribs.

Police said Campbell had turned around at Mickey's Place and when he pulled onto the road was hit by a car driven by Sidney Gutherie of Beaver R. D. 2. Police said the road was icy at the time. The Guthrie car was a total loss and there was damage to the other vehicle. The accident occurred about 7 p. m.

In the other accident, which occurred about 11:30 p. m. in Ohio View, there was damage to the right front of a 1962 station wagon driven by Paul Adolph Dixon of Maine Blvd., East Liverpool, and to the rear of a 1957 auto driven by Mrs. Marie Walton of Industry. No one was hurt, including four children in the Walton auto.

Police said Dixon was unable to stop when Mrs. Walton turned off to attend Midnight Mass at St. Christine's Mission at the Industry fire hall.

Mayor Harding said no decision has been reached on the city's next move. He said he already has conferred with officials of the company's Youngstown office, who represented Allis - Chalmers when the bids were opened.

The possibility has been mentioned that the contract might be let to a sub-contractor. One of the principal reasons for concern is the availability of replacement parts at a later date, the mayor said.

Allis-Chalmers was one of six bidders when the city opened offers on the generating equipment about two months ago. It holds a contract for delivery of the generator in 18 months.

The Allis-Chalmers president announced his company's decision last Thursday to the shareholders. Mayor Harding said he was advised shortly afterward.

Mayor Robert Harding has called a public meeting for Friday night at 8 at City Hall in order to obtain opinions on what should be done.

Officers checked Hoback's home, but could not find him. They said they located him later at a friend's house. Hoback's shirt had no missing button when he was found, police said. However, at his home they said they found a shirt with a button missing. It matched the button and the thread found in the wrecked car, police said.

After long questioning, Hoback admitted he was responsible for the burglaries and the auto theft, Lt. McDaniel said.

Hoback was held to the January Grand Jury when he pleaded guilty this morning before Acting Municipal Judge Lawrence W. Smith Jr. on both charges—the breaking and entering of Central Service and theft of the auto. He signed a written plea in each case, also waiving preliminary hearings.

His bond was set at $1,000 in each case and he was returned to jail in default.

Ex-U.S. Sen. Green Has Quiet Christmas

A small tree, several bouquets of poinsettias and other flowers, and an array of cards decorated his room.

He remained in critical condition. He suffered a series of slight cerebral strokes a week ago. He is 95.

2 In Industry Crashes Hurt

Industry police investigated two accidents Monday evening on Route 68 in which two persons received minor injuries.

Miss Barbara Campbell of Industry R. D. 1 suffered possible injury to the right ankle and knee and was treated at Rochester General Hospital Monday at 8:05 p. m. Her father, Ellis Campbell, the driver, suffered several possible broken ribs.

Police said Campbell had turned around at Mickey's Place and when he pulled onto the road was hit by a car driven by Sidney Gutherie of Beaver R. D. 2. Police said the road was icy at the time. The Guthrie car was a total loss and there was damage to the other vehicle. The accident occurred about 7 p. m.

In the other accident, which occurred about 11:30 p. m. in Ohio View, there was damage to the right front of a 1962 station wagon driven by Paul Adolph Dixon of Maine Blvd., East Liverpool, and to the rear of a 1957 auto driven by Mrs. Marie Walton of Industry. No one was hurt, including four children in the Walton auto.

Police said Dixon was unable to stop when Mrs. Walton turned off to attend Midnight Mass at St. Christine's Mission at the Industry fire hall.

Statehouse To Become All Republican

Ohio Legislature Faces Challenges

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's Statehouse becomes all-Republican next month, but the challenge to be faced inside those walls is not one to be envied by the proponent of any political party.

The first six months of 1963 will see a colossal wrestling match between men and money as Gov.-Elect James A. Rhodes and the 105th General Assembly attempt to get the state's financial affairs squared away.

But that same legislative session also will see heavy pressure for more money for schools, state universities, and the mental health and welfare programs.

Can the new all-Republican Statehouse "crew" turn the trick with the revenue from tax laws on the books?

Some Republican leaders — especially those wedded to the principle of now new or increased taxes — are certain the state's available money, if properly handled, will support the programs to which the state is committed. Some other Republicans, however, are not so sure.

Nowhere in any of his campaign speeches or statements did Rhodes make a hard-and-fast pledge against new or increased taxes. He did, however, take a firm stand against a state income tax should it develop that more state revenue is essential.

Likewise, House Speaker Roger Cloud has refused to slam the door on any possible tax increase.

But the Senate is another matter.

Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, Nelsonville Republican, is a firm foe of new or increased taxes. His finance chairman, Sen. William H. Deddens of Cincinnati, is committed even more than Mechem to a hold-the-line policy—if that is possible.

Throw in such other conservative members of the Senate Finance Committee as Sens. Ross Pepple of Lima, Roy Gardner of Mansfield, Theodore Gray of Piqua, Robert Shaw of Columbus and Lowell Fess of Yellow Springs and a study barrier appears ready to block any attempt to increase taxes.

Mechem says he believes "there is a lot of waste" in state government. Elimination of waste he says, would go a long way toward meeting the state's ever-increasing obligations.

"Economy" always has been a popular word with the voters and Republicans who will be sweeping all Democrats out of all elective administrative offices Jan. 14 have been using it frequently.

Since there have been no charges that state subsidies for such programs as schools and aid for the aged and blind are too high, those who want to end waste in state government apparently believe it occurs in the administration of government. The biggest cost of administration, of course, is the salaries of employes.

Yet if a 10 per cent across-the-board slash were applied to the payrolls of all state deparments and universities, yearly costs would be reduced only about $16 million, a study of the budget shows.

That 10 per cent figure is purely arbitrary and no one in a position of authority has even suggested it; it is used only for purposes of illustration of how salaries paid state employes stack up against an annual budget which exceeds $1 billion.

Even the voter-taxpayer who pays little or no attention to the government at various levels is dimly aware that the postwar world has brought changes which affect the role of government at all levels.

The federal government's "atomic age" quickly was supplanted by the "space age" with its transcendent responsibility of defense; local governments must pick up the garbage and police areas far more vast than formerly; the prime responsibility of the state government has become the education of the generation which must face the challenges of the next 30 to 50 years. But public policy established over the last 30 years has handed the state either partial or total responsibility for those citizens unable to care for themselves.

"The coming session of the general assembly," in the words of House Speaker Roger Cloud, "will face many perplexing problems, and their solution will not be easy."

Where money is concerned, the state's challenges are many and the choices are few:

—In programs where costs are pegged to the number of people benefitting, such as education, the money line can be held by spreading the same amount of cash over more people, or —Additional taxes can be levied to keep the per-person costs at present levels while the number of participants increases.

—In the long range, state revenues can be increased by attracting so-called "exotic" space-age industry through development of a vast pool of scientific, mathematical and engineering brains. But, in the short range, that will cost many millions and, for a few years be all out-go no income.

Whatever is done, the decisions won't be easy.

Noah Schechter, 74, Veteran Writer, Dies

By E.B. RADCLIFFE
Cincinnati Enquirer Theater Editor

CINCINNATI (AP) — The old master didn't show up at the Enquirer's news room at 11:30 Monday night to help us get the paper out—and to arrange for a free final edition for himself.

We got the paper out, all right.

But we shall miss the gravel-voiced, usually irate criticisms and suggestions of Noah Schechter, long manager of Schubert Theater interests here.

Funeral services were planned in Cincinnati today. Noah had a heart ailment and died in his sleep Monday at home. His age was 74.

But when the dsek or sports had a good night—by Noah's standards — he never let them know it. Instead, he visited elsewhere.

He sometimes found fault with work in the art room or the theater department. The latter might have given his Schubert show a three-column picture but would find it had neglected to add a free item telling where to buy tickets and the cost.

The arguments usually cooled off over at Bob Jones (restaurant) after edition time.

We don't expect to meet another ham as quick with an ad lib. One of his best known was years ago when he played the heavy in a repertory company and was supposed to be killed with a pistol.

Someone forgot to load the weapon. The pistol clicked when it should have fired.

Noah clutched his heart and fell anyway, saying, "My heart, my haart; I always knew I'd die of heart failure."

He loved the theater, but not out of perspective. He had violent prejudices for and against certain stars and a keen sense of quality in performance as well as writing.

As for motion pictures, he had kind words for them occasionally. But Noah never altered his view that "no movie is worth more than a quarter."

He was outwardly a rebel, yet it took the form of contradictions. One night, he'd sound off about persecution of the common man. A couple of nights later, he'd tell how he wished he had more public education. Then he'd contrast the very close and bitter memories of persecution in the Romania of his childhood with the opportunities he found in the United States.

Noah's hobbies were fishing and cooking. A noted actress once tried his spareribs at a party and said, "I'm sure you got that recipe from your dear old mother."

"Spareribs?" asked Noah. "If my mother ever found me cooking spareribs, she'd disown me."

He was a bachelor, but sometimes he indicated he thought the man with a family might have the better of it.

And since he had to go sometime, I'm sure that if he could have picked a time, he would have chosen Christmas Eve.

As a showman and a wonderful ham, the thought of his obituary making page one on Christmas Day would appeal to his great sense of humor.

Rotary Hears Welshman

Education Policy Blamed For England's Stagnation

Proud, old England faces grave problems in struggling from the yoke of stagnation and conservatism affecting her internal development, and the European Common Market appears "a salvage to keep her from going down the drain," a young Welsh student told the Rotary Club Monday.

Richard Worthing-Davies, studying industrial management at Carnegie Institute of Technology under a Rotary Foundation fellowship, spoke disparagingly of his country's development at the club's meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

England's internal economic problems stem largely from its public school system that fails to produce an adequate number of trained technicians and skilled managers, he asserted.

The education system, termed public although it is in reality private, leaves 75 per cent of students in the 11-year class with no chance of entering universities under rigid testing program.

"Then the students turn to industry, generally at the shop level, to become apprentices. Their future is not particularly bright and the future of the country is worse," Worthing-Davies said.

Paradoxially, there is a desperate shortage of skilled workers with the present educational system doing little to fill the gaps in producing them, he said.

Worhing-Davies described the European Common Market as a "major disaster" and added "it now appears a salvage to keep England from going down the drain."

The Welsh student discounted England's chances of becoming a member of the trade bloc, however, and said "It is no longer ideal for Great Britain." "Sometime ago, the common market was an ideal opportunity to create a powerful bloc for world peace." But the time has passed for the common market to be of great value for the nation, he said.

The speaker chided the nation's leaders for entertaining the belief that England is a great empire. He quoted Dean Acheson's remark that " 'Great Britain is not an empire, and has not yet found a role to play in the world today'."

"Once the country does away with the belief that it is a great empire, it won't need the Skybolt missile to defend it," he declared.

Turning again to England's internal affairs, the speaker also said trade unions are in for a share of the blame for a stagnant economic picture for being extremely conservative to change, such as trying new equipment and processes. Raises in wages without subsequent increases in productivity help account for inflation, he said.

The 22-year-old student also spoke humorously of English government and the popularity of soccer games between England and Wales.

He was introduced by E. R. Chandler, program chairman.

Sidney C. Porter Jr., president, introduced seven new members who will be inducted in a ceremony Jan. 8.

They are H. James Allison Jr. of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, John T. Hall of the Hall China Co., Donald Honicky, manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., the Rev. Russell Mase, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, Leland C. Pittenger of the Globe Brick Co., Richard Witherow of the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co., and Stewart Thompson of Milligan's Hardware.

Merger Stand Answered

Railroad Terms Union's Assertions As 'Fantastic'

PITTSBURGH — "The distortions and outright falsehoods concerning our proposed merger with the New York Central, which were perpetrated at a so-called 'mass meeting' of 20 persons at Steubenville Dec. 16 by a railroad union spokesman, are so fantastic that they hardly merit an answer," Morton S. Smith, Pennsylvania Railroad vice president, said today in a statement issued from his regional headquarters office here. He continued:

"However, we feel that we have a duty to protect any of the public who may innocently be misled by a well - organized effort of union leaders to obscure the benefits of the proposed merger to the public, our customers, our employes and the communities we serve, as well as industrial development in general.

"Countering every union misstatement made at Steubenville would be burdensome to any reader or listener, but a few examples should tend to discredit most of what was said.

"A charge that train service at Steubenville will be reduced by 60 per cent should be matched against sworn testimony by our witnesses before the Interstate Commerce Commission that all service will be equal to or better than present service.

"Our labor opponents have had full opportunity to cross-examine our witnesses and have failed to establish support for such false charges. Evidence showed clearly that proposed rerouting of through trains will be accomplished without impairment of service and that all freight trains providing service locally will be continued or new trains substituted.

"The unions charged that merger 'would eliminate most rail competition.' The fact is that there are some 384 communities of over 10,000 population served either by PRR or Central or both and only nine of these — nine out of 384 — do not have some other Class I railroad also serving them. Competition in these communities between railroads would be intensified rather than reduced.

"The union speaker said that merger would 'favor certain shippers, and curtail or abandon freight service at will.' The unions have as yet produced no shipper witnesses to support this charge, while some 70 witnesses representing industry, commerce and agriculture throughout the country have testified in support of the merger. These have included Weirton Steel Co. and numerous other companies with headquarters or plants in Ohio.

"The speaker suggested that our merger would make it more difficult to attract new industry. Actually, our merged railroads may well spark and be the thrust behind resurgence of heavy industry all through the East. It's certainly one of our main purposes, and we'll have the plant and service to back it up. The statement that Steubenville will have a large share in the total of 7,800 railroad positions to be eliminated by merger throughout 13 states is without foundation. Our merger plan contemplates no reduction in forces at Steubenville.

"The people of Steubenville and of the state of Ohio may be sure that they will benefit greatly from the proposed merger. So will all the states the two roads serve. How can a state do anything but benefit when two railroads that have served it for generations join forces to do an even better job for it?

"It is true that in side-by-side merger, where two railroads duplicate each other's plant and activities to the point of wastefulness, you begin by streamlining the plant and activities to prune away needless expense. Railroads have to be allowed to do that if they are to halt the decline in payrolls and earnings and re-establish their ability to compete for business with other railroads and other forms of transport.

"The railroad industry is forced to preserve and operate a jumble of plant and services far in excess of any possible need or use — something which, if uncorrected, can undermine and destroy an industry almost more surely than anything else.

"This problem is especially severe in the East, where the Central and Pennsylvania operate. Many railroads are starving to death in one another's front yards, fighting desperately and unprofitably for business that a merged industry could handle efficiently and profitably — profitably for stockholders, employes, customers, suppliers and communities.

"Our merger will do this without eliminating a mile of railroad line or curtailing local or through service, freight or passenger. Road capacity of the new system will be greater than the two railroads add up to now, or did during peak operation in World War II," he declared.

Soviet Accuses U.S. Embassy Again Of Spying

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union again today accused the U.S. Embassy in Moscow of espionage and demanded it stop the alleged spying. U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler promptly rejected the charge as unfounded.

Kohler in turn accused the Russians of carrying on an anti-American campaign in the press and on television.

Soviet newspapers linked the five with Oleg Penkovsky, 43, a Soviet scientific official who is being held for trial on charges of spying for the United States, and Greville Wynne, a British businessman who was arrested in Hungary in November and now is awaiting trial in Moscow, also for espionage.

Agriculture Hit Headlines During 1962

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's agriculture hit the headlines this year with scandals, farm strikes, battles over farm legislation and government efforts to whittle down costly crop and dairy surpluses.

The scandals revolved around Billie Sol Estes, West Texas financier convicted by a Texas court of alleged fraud, and his relations with the Agriculture Department under its big cotton production and grain storage programs. These relations touched off congressional investigations.

The farm strikes centered around efforts of the National Farmers Organization, a relatively new farm group centered largely in the Midwest, to have processors and buyers pay higher prices for meat animals and grains.

The battles over farm legislation were waged in Congress and, indirectly, in congressional elections. The Kennedy administration sought to get new legislation authorizing tighter production controls on such big surpluses as wheat, feed grains and dairy products.

Government efforts to reduce these surpluses involved stepped up contributions to the needy at home and abroad, and offers of payments to farmers for reducing plantings of grains.

In term of income, 1962 matched 1961 with farm operators getting an estimated $12.8 billion after paying production costs. This was the largest net income since 1953 when it totaled $13.8 billion. Little change from 1962 was forecast for 1963. However, the average income per capita for the farm population averaged a little higher in 1962 than in 1961, reflecting a further decrease in the number of farms and in the farm population.

The Billie Sol Estes affair occupied much of the attention of the government—and of the public—during the spring and summer. Estes got into trouble with the Agriculture Department with a plan to obtain large cotton planting allotments under a control program.

During the course of the affair, two top-ranking department officials were fired and a third resigned. Testimony had been offered linking them with gifts from Estes.

The NFO farm strike had a temporary effect of holding down marketings of livestock and a temporary increase in prices in some markets. But farm leaders generally agreed that it had no lasting effect on the market situation. They said such a strike has little chance of success unless the great bulk of farmers join in, which they did not do.

The legislative battles centered on administration proposals to set up tight production controls on feed grains and dairy products and to tighten controls on wheat. Although Democrats controlled both houses of Congress, they were able to get approval on a new wheat program only. Some Democrats joined Republicans to defeat plans for feed grain and dairy controls.

Nevertheless, the administration achieved a degree of success in reducing grain surpluses under voluntary programs. These programs offered growers payments and price supports for taking grain land out of production. These payments totaled about $1.2 billion this year compared with $800 million last year.

A decline in cotton exports tossed this crop into new surplus difficulties. The administration, which had promised to offer a new cotton program at the next session of Congress, blamed the dual-price system of the present government program for cotton difficulties. It said this system put cotton at a disadvantage with foreign cotton and with man-made fibers.

The Kennedy administration made progress in its efforts to help rural America develop non-agricultural opportunities. Congress passed legislation authorizing the Agriculture Department to make loans and grants to help farmers shift crop land to other uses such as recreation, wildlife, trees and grasses.

Too, the department was authorized to help local groups get new industries to provide jobs for persons no longer needed in farm production.

Crop production this year came within about 2 per cent of the record high set in 1960. Except for voluntary retirement of grain land under the payment program, production would have set a new record. Farm exports set a record high, aided in large measure by government food-for-peace and other easy payment and export subsidy payments.

Farm prices for the year as a whole averaged about 2 per cent above last year. But the value of farm marketings was below last year.

Shipments By Rail Are Halted In Ports

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rail shipments of coal, grain, and other bulk products into Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports were halted today because of the longshoremen's strike.

The Association of American Railroads ordered the embargo to keep cargo from piling up and freight cars being stranded.

The embargo will affect coal mining areas chiefly but could also curtail movement of grain and petroleum. Only bulk cargoes for which there are storage facilities in the port areas will continue to be carried during the strike, which is now in its fourth day.

Rotary Hears Welshman

Education Policy Blamed For England's Stagnation

Proud, old England faces grave problems in struggling from the yoke of stagnation and conservatism affecting her internal development, and the European Common Market appears "a salvage to keep her from going down the drain," a young Welsh student told the Rotary Club Monday.

Richard Worthing-Davies, studying industrial management at Carnegie Institute of Technology under a Rotary Foundation fellowship, spoke disparagingly of his country's development at the club's meeting in the Travelers Hotel.

England's internal economic problems stem largely from its public school system that fails to produce an adequate number of trained technicians and skilled managers, he asserted.

The education system, termed public although it is in reality private, leaves 75 per cent of students in the 11-year class with no chance of entering universities under rigid testing program.

"Then the students turn to industry, generally at the shop level, to become apprentices. Their future is not particularly bright and the future of the country is worse," Worthing-Davies said.

Paradoxially, there is a desperate shortage of skilled workers with the present educational system doing little to fill the gaps in producing them, he said.

Worhing-Davies described the European Common Market as a "major disaster" and added "it now appears a salvage to keep England from going down the drain."

The Welsh student discounted England's chances of becoming a member of the trade bloc, however, and said "It is no longer ideal for Great Britain." "Sometime ago, the common market was an ideal opportunity to create a powerful bloc for world peace." But the time has passed for the common market to be of great value for the nation, he said.

The speaker chided the nation's leaders for entertaining the belief that England is a great empire. He quoted Dean Acheson's remark that " 'Great Britain is not an empire, and has not yet found a role to play in the world today'."

"Once the country does away with the belief that it is a great empire, it won't need the Skybolt missile to defend it," he declared.

Turning again to England's internal affairs, the speaker also said trade unions are in for a share of the blame for a stagnant economic picture for being extremely conservative to change, such as trying new equipment and processes. Raises in wages without subsequent increases in productivity help account for inflation, he said.

The 22-year-old student also spoke humorously of English government and the popularity of soccer games between England and Wales.

He was introduced by E. R. Chandler, program chairman.

Sidney C. Porter Jr., president, introduced seven new members who will be inducted in a ceremony Jan. 8.

They are H. James Allison Jr. of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association, John T. Hall of the Hall China Co., Donald Honicky, manager of the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., the Rev. Russell Mase, pastor of the Emmanuel Presbyterian Church, Leland C. Pittenger of the Globe Brick Co., Richard Witherow of the Patterson Foundry & Machine Co., and Stewart Thompson of Milligan's Hardware.

Merger Stand Answered

Railroad Terms Union's Assertions As 'Fantastic'

PITTSBURGH — "The distortions and outright falsehoods concerning our proposed merger with the New York Central, which were perpetrated at a so-called 'mass meeting' of 20 persons at Steubenville Dec. 16 by a railroad union spokesman, are so fantastic that they hardly merit an answer," Morton S. Smith, Pennsylvania Railroad vice president, said today in a statement issued from his regional headquarters office here. He continued:

"However, we feel that we have a duty to protect any of the public who may innocently be misled by a well - organized effort of union leaders to obscure the benefits of the proposed merger to the public, our customers, our employes and the communities we serve, as well as industrial development in general.

"Countering every union misstatement made at Steubenville would be burdensome to any reader or listener, but a few examples should tend to discredit most of what was said.

"A charge that train service at Steubenville will be reduced by 60 per cent should be matched against sworn testimony by our witnesses before the Interstate Commerce Commission that all service will be equal to or better than present service.

"Our labor opponents have had full opportunity to cross-examine our witnesses and have failed to establish support for such false charges. Evidence showed clearly that proposed rerouting of through trains will be accomplished without impairment of service and that all freight trains providing service locally will be continued or new trains substituted.

"The unions charged that merger 'would eliminate most rail competition.' The fact is that there are some 384 communities of over 10,000 population served either by PRR or Central or both and only nine of these — nine out of 384 — do not have some other Class I railroad also serving them. Competition in these communities between railroads would be intensified rather than reduced.

"The union speaker said that merger would 'favor certain shippers, and curtail or abandon freight service at will.' The unions have as yet produced no shipper witnesses to support this charge, while some 70 witnesses representing industry, commerce and agriculture throughout the country have testified in support of the merger. These have included Weirton Steel Co. and numerous other companies with headquarters or plants in Ohio.

"The speaker suggested that our merger would make it more difficult to attract new industry. Actually, our merged railroads may well spark and be the thrust behind resurgence of heavy industry all through the East. It's certainly one of our main purposes, and we'll have the plant and service to back it up. The statement that Steubenville will have a large share in the total of 7,800 railroad positions to be eliminated by merger throughout 13 states is without foundation. Our merger plan contemplates no reduction in forces at Steubenville.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our high school principal is square as a chair. He has ruled that the girls can't wear wig-hats in the classroom.

As you probably know, wig-hats are real big now. Everybody, but everybody, has one. We think the principal is acting like a dictator. It's like Russia around this place now. The kids all call him Mr. K. behind his back.

The ruling went like this: "Wigs have become fashionable again. It is permissible for girls in this high school to wear wigs if they wish. Wig-hats are not wigs, they are hats, and may not be worn in the classroom since any hat would be a distraction."

What do you think of this, Ann Landers?—J.M. STUDENTS.

Dear J. M. Students: Sorry, Petunias, but I have no kind words to offer in behalf of those ratty-looking wig-hats. If you gals want to look like test pilots in a broom factory, fine . . . wear the monstrositites on the street, but they are strictly out of place in the classroom.

Dear Ann: I am a young mother who needs help badly. Our son is 3 years old. He always has been a happy child and I truthfully can say we have had very little trouble with him — until now. Six weeks ago we added a darling baby girl to our family and now we have a serious problem on our hands.

Before the baby came we prepared Jimmy carefully. We told him God was sending him a baby brother or sister and that he would have to be the big boy in the family. He seemed pleased with his approaching role of importance.

From the first day we brought the new baby home from the hospital we've had trouble with Jimmy. He began to cry a great deal and talk baby talk. He has suddenly taken to sucking his thumb—something he hasn't done in more than a year.

Yesterday I saw him drinking milk out of the baby's bottle and decided to write to you. Can you help? — ANXIOUS MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Jimmy feels he is being shunted aside by his baby sister and is attempting to compete with her for attention.

Don't try to shame him out of his "babyishness" by telling him he's the big boy in the family. He isn't particularly interested in being the "big boy" since he sees no advantage in the role.

Make an effort to give him more attention and more cuddling. When he feels sure that you love him as much as you love his little sister he'll be just fine.

Home Wreckers

Dear Ann: Two years ago my wife and I were divorced. I had to give up two little girls whom I love very much.

Six months ago I remarried and I've never known such contentment. My second wife is a grand person and we get along beautifully. The problem involves my little girls. They come to visit us for one weekend every month.

They are lively youngsters and I must admit they make a wreck of our home. My wife says these visits are wrecking her health. I've tried to make her understand it is important for me to see my children, but she says she just can't take it.

If my wife leaves me life would not be worth living. Yet I can't bear to think of not seeing my little girls. Please help me with this problem. — SILVER THREADS.

Dear Silver Threads: There is no reason why children should make a wreck of any home. If their mother is not teaching them discipline and respect for property, you should.

Insist that they keep their hands off things which should not be touched, and see to it that they put everything back in its place. Your second wife may be overreacting to these girls for obvious reasons, but she does have a legitimate complaint.

Confidentially

TO IN A RUT: Well, get moving, Bub. The only difference between a rut and a grave is the dimensions.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ohio Finance Director Vows To Get Rid Of 3,000 Workers

In the name of economy, he's promised to try to get rid of most of the 3,000-plus persons he says have been hired as state employes in the waning days of the Democratic administration.

This recommendation is one of six Krabach says he will put forth officially when he takes office with the Republican administration of Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes Jan. 14.

Krabach, who has been chairman of the Unemployment Compensation Board of Review, said he has decided to seek these measures in light of his study of the state's financial condition over the past few weeks:

1. An immediate halt to hiring of additional state employes "save in instances of demonstrated emergency"; and an "immediate and complete halt" to increasing salaries on a general scale.

2. Notification of those employes hired since last Sept. 15 that "it will be necessary, in the great majority of cases, to terminate their services with the state."

3. Stopping all purchases except emergency items.

4. Stopping all trips by state employes to conventions, seminars, etc. at state expense, except in "extreme emergencies."

5. Holding up all payments on recent state purchases until it can be determined whether any items "unnecessary at this time" can be returned.

6. A review of all contracts for services.

The incoming finance director said his study has shown him that the general fund is in serious difficulty.

"There is but one solution," Krabach said in announcing his plans Tuesday night. ". . . We must reduce expenditures.

"We must tighten our belts and institute a program of financial integrity in order to avoid the only other alternative — a substantial increase in taxes at this time.

"The responsibility of balancing the budget lies with the office of finance director. I intend to meet this responsibility head on."

60 Phone Operators Walk Out At Elyria

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Sixty long-distance operators staged a 6½-hour walkout at the Elyria Telephone Co. Tuesday, claiming the company broke a contract agreement to give them a 5 per cent Christmas bonus.

Baxter Case, company president, said there was no contract agreement on the bonus but that it was a voluntary action by the firm's board of directors. He said the employes, members of Communications Workers of America Local 4376, also claimed they did not receive a bonus they were entitled to last year.

Case said the matter will be decided through arbitration. Service was uninterrupted during the walkout, he said.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our high school principal is square as a chair. He has ruled that the girls can't wear wig-hats in the classroom.

As you probably know, wig-hats are real big now. Everybody, but everybody, has one. We think the principal is acting like a dictator. It's like Russia around this place now. The kids all call him Mr. K. behind his back.

The ruling went like this: "Wigs have become fashionable again. It is permissible for girls in this high school to wear wigs if they wish. Wig-hats are not wigs, they are hats, and may not be worn in the classroom since any hat would be a distraction."

What do you think of this, Ann Landers?—J.M. STUDENTS.

Dear J. M. Students: Sorry, Petunias, but I have no kind words to offer in behalf of those ratty-looking wig-hats. If you gals want to look like test pilots in a broom factory, fine . . . wear the monstrositites on the street, but they are strictly out of place in the classroom.

Dear Ann: I am a young mother who needs help badly. Our son is 3 years old. He always has been a happy child and I truthfully can say we have had very little trouble with him — until now. Six weeks ago we added a darling baby girl to our family and now we have a serious problem on our hands.

Before the baby came we prepared Jimmy carefully. We told him God was sending him a baby brother or sister and that he would have to be the big boy in the family. He seemed pleased with his approaching role of importance.

From the first day we brought the new baby home from the hospital we've had trouble with Jimmy. He began to cry a great deal and talk baby talk. He has suddenly taken to sucking his thumb—something he hasn't done in more than a year.

Yesterday I saw him drinking milk out of the baby's bottle and decided to write to you. Can you help? — ANXIOUS MOTHER.

Dear Mother: Jimmy feels he is being shunted aside by his baby sister and is attempting to compete with her for attention.

Don't try to shame him out of his "babyishness" by telling him he's the big boy in the family. He isn't particularly interested in being the "big boy" since he sees no advantage in the role.

Make an effort to give him more attention and more cuddling. When he feels sure that you love him as much as you love his little sister he'll be just fine.

Home Wreckers

Dear Ann: Two years ago my wife and I were divorced. I had to give up two little girls whom I love very much.

Six months ago I remarried and I've never known such contentment. My second wife is a grand person and we get along beautifully. The problem involves my little girls. They come to visit us for one weekend every month.

They are lively youngsters and I must admit they make a wreck of our home. My wife says these visits are wrecking her health. I've tried to make her understand it is important for me to see my children, but she says she just can't take it.

If my wife leaves me life would not be worth living. Yet I can't bear to think of not seeing my little girls. Please help me with this problem. — SILVER THREADS.

Dear Silver Threads: There is no reason why children should make a wreck of any home. If their mother is not teaching them discipline and respect for property, you should.

Insist that they keep their hands off things which should not be touched, and see to it that they put everything back in its place. Your second wife may be overreacting to these girls for obvious reasons, but she does have a legitimate complaint.

Confidentially

TO IN A RUT: Well, get moving, Bub. The only difference between a rut and a grave is the dimensions.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ohio Finance Director Vows To Get Rid Of 3,000 Workers

In the name of economy, he's promised to try to get rid of most of the 3,000-plus persons he says have been hired as state employes in the waning days of the Democratic administration.

This recommendation is one of six Krabach says he will put forth officially when he takes office with the Republican administration of Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes Jan. 14.

Krabach, who has been chairman of the Unemployment Compensation Board of Review, said he has decided to seek these measures in light of his study of the state's financial condition over the past few weeks:

1. An immediate halt to hiring of additional state employes "save in instances of demonstrated emergency"; and an "immediate and complete halt" to increasing salaries on a general scale.

2. Notification of those employes hired since last Sept. 15 that "it will be necessary, in the great majority of cases, to terminate their services with the state."

3. Stopping all purchases except emergency items.

4. Stopping all trips by state employes to conventions, seminars, etc. at state expense, except in "extreme emergencies."

5. Holding up all payments on recent state purchases until it can be determined whether any items "unnecessary at this time" can be returned.

6. A review of all contracts for services.

The incoming finance director said his study has shown him that the general fund is in serious difficulty.

"There is but one solution," Krabach said in announcing his plans Tuesday night. ". . . We must reduce expenditures.

"We must tighten our belts and institute a program of financial integrity in order to avoid the only other alternative — a substantial increase in taxes at this time.

"The responsibility of balancing the budget lies with the office of finance director. I intend to meet this responsibility head on."

60 Phone Operators Walk Out At Elyria

ELYRIA, Ohio (AP) — Sixty long-distance operators staged a 6½-hour walkout at the Elyria Telephone Co. Tuesday, claiming the company broke a contract agreement to give them a 5 per cent Christmas bonus.

Baxter Case, company president, said there was no contract agreement on the bonus but that it was a voluntary action by the firm's board of directors. He said the employes, members of Communications Workers of America Local 4376, also claimed they did not receive a bonus they were entitled to last year.

Case said the matter will be decided through arbitration. Service was uninterrupted during the walkout, he said.

Sherman Pro Coach Of '62

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coach Allie Sherman of the New York Giants — who never made the grade as a first-string pro player —was named professional Coach of the Year today by the Washington Touchdown Club.

Sherman, 39, whose Eastern Division champions vie for the National Football League crown Sunday against the Green Bay Packers, will be honored by the club at its annual awards dinner, Jan. 12.

In his two years as Giant coach —years in which his charges have captured two Eastern Division championships — Sherman has compiled a 22-5 won-lost record, with one tie game. The Giants lost the NFL title game to Green Bay last year. This year, the New Yorkers have rolled up a 12-2 mark.

The Associated Press named Sherman its pro coach of the year in 1961. He succeeded Jim Lee Howell as Giants coach in 1960.

Note to new cooks: keep white as well as black pepper on hand. Use the white pepper in a light-colored dish when you don't want grains of black pepper to show.

2nd String Quarterback Could Be Ole Miss Hero

By TOM DYGARD

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — True enough, quarterback Glynn Griffing is the big gun of Mississippi's football attack.

But when the Rebels tangle with Arkansas in the nationally-televised Sugar Bowl game here New Year's Day, you might do well to keep your eye on the second-string quarterback, Jim Weatherly.

If Ole Miss tradition holds true, Weatherly, a sophomore, is slated for big things next year—the signal-calling job on a major football power, perhaps even All-America contention.

Last year, for example, Griffing was the hungry stand-in, working behind Doug Elmore, pushing Elmore for the top job, preparing himself to fill the first-team shoes.

The year before, Elmore worked under Jake Gibbs, an All-America, and the year before that, Gibbs played behind Bobby Franklin.

Because Griffing is a senior and Weatherly is a sophomore, Weatherly stands a good chance of being the first Mississippi quarterback to hold forth for two years since Bobby Franklin did it in 1958 and 1959.

After missing the first two games because of a leg bruise, he came on fast behind Griffing, finishing the season with 230 yards gained rushing on 35 carries—a 6.6-yard average—and 180 yards passing. He completed 15 of 25 passes, three of them for touchdowns.

Laver Sends Australia Off To Early Cup Lead

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

BRISBANE Australia (AP)—Rod Laver, playing crushing tennis, and veteran Neale Fraser, hanging on grimly on tiring legs, sent Australia off to an imposing 2-0 lead with the opening singles today in the 1962 Davis Cup challenge round.

The flashy, brilliant Laver uncorked the form that carried him to a grand slam sweep of major championships in smashing Mexico's No. 1 pride, Rafael Osuna, in 69 crisp minutes 6-2, 6-1, 7-5.

Fraser, a 29-year-old, playing in his fifth challenge round weathered a powerful challenge by stylish Antonio Palafox for a 7-9, 6-3, 6-4, 11-9 triumph that took two hours, 50 minutes.

Thus Australians under wily Captain Harry Hopman were in a position to clinch their tenth Davis Cup victory in the last 12 years Thursday when the doubles will be played on Milton Courts here.

The Mexicans are conceded a good chance of prolonging the series by winning the tandem match since Osuna and Palafox have been playing together for years and won the American championship in the past year at Brookline, Mass.

The Australian team was not announced, but it is almost certain to be Laver and Roy Emerson, the latter the world's No. 2 player who asked to be excused from a singles assignment because of bruised ribs.

It was a case of wasted opportunities for the talented Mexican who repeatedly had the Aussie veteran on the ropes, but never could deal a knockout blow.

It was the first challenge round for the tense 26-year-old Mexican stylist and he was obviously the victim of his own inexperience.

8 Major Cage Tourneys Will Open Firing Today

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hey, mom, you can wash those tablecloths. Today's the day junior starts executing those basketball plays he's been diagraming on your best linen all week.

In countless cities, towns, villages and hamlets throughout the country, the scribbling stops and the firing starts as the nation's collegians return from a holiday layoff to the heaviest Christmas tournament schedule in history.

Eight major tournaments get under way today—including the star-studded Top Six—three more join in Thursday and an additional 10 start Friday in action that will reach its peak Saturday when 19 coveted championships will be decided. Numerous minor holiday tourneys also get under way.

Of the country's top ten elite, six will be campaigning for higher honors in the top tourneys—third-ranked Loyola of Chicago, No. 4 Illinois, sixth-rated Arizona State, No. 7 Southern California, ninth-ranked Stanford and No. 10 Mississippi State.

The others—top-rated Cincinnati No. 2 Ohio State, fifth-ranked Kentucky and No. 8 Duke—will hold their share of the spotlight, but they'll be outside the tournament limelight.

Los Angeles Classic—Colorado State U., 5-2, vs. Southern California, 9-0, and St. Louis, 4-3, vs. Washington, 3-3, in afternoon games, Utah State, 7-1, vs. UCLA, 7-2, and Stanford, 7-0, vs. Northwestern, 2-5, in night games.

Holiday Festival—West Virginia, 4-2, vs. Boston College, 3-3, and Holy Cross, 4-1, vs. St. Bonaventure, 3-3, in afternoon. Illinois, 5-0, vs. Penn, 5-0, and NYU, 3-1, vs. Duquesne, 5-1, night.

Quaker City—Providence, 4-2, vs. Delaware, 5-1, and Villanova, 3-2, vs. Manhattan, 4-1, afternoon. LaSalle, 4-2, vs. BYU, 3-5, and St. Joseph's, Pa., 5-2, vs. Bowling Green, 4-0, night.

All-College—Creighton, 6-4, vs. Wyoming, 3-4, and Oklahoma City 3-5, vs. Baylor, 3-3. The first round will be completed Thursday with Memphis State, 5-2, vs. Toledo, 4-2, and Chicago Loyola, 7-0, vs. Arkansas, 3-3.

Far West—Iowa, 2-4, vs. Arizona, 5-2, and Oregon, 2-3, vs. Washington State, 2-3. The first round will be completed Thursday with Seattle, 5-1, vs. California, 6-1, and Oregon State, 3-3, vs. Idaho, 5-0.

Big Eight—Colorado, 5-2, vs. Kansas, 4-4, and Iowa State, 4-3, vs. Nebraska, 4-4. The first round will be completed Thursday with Kansas State, 2-5, vs. Missouri, 4-4, and Oklahoma State, 7-1, vs. Oklahoma, 4-4.

Also getting under way today are the Western College Athletic Conference tourney at San Francisco and the Gulf South Classic at Shreveport, La. Both have eight-team fields with Thursday action winding up the first round.

Rose Bowl Teams Drill Undercover

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Wisconsin and Southern California moved behind guarded practice field gates today as Rose Bowl fever surged for the first post season meeting of the nation's top two football powers.

The Badgers and Trojans entered the stretch run of drills for their meeting in the 49th Rose Bowl game New Year's Day while followers argued the merits of their favorite.

West Coast fans, who watched Southern Cal roll up 10 straight victories and earn the No. 1 rating among the country's collegiate teams, are virtually united in the belief that the Trojans are unbeatable. Some appear almost sorry for the visiting Badgers.

Midwest fans solidly back the Badgers, the champions of the rugged Big Ten and ranked just behind Southern Cal in the final national poll of The Associated Press. Wisconsin had an 8-1 record, losing only to Ohio State.

Tapers Finally Win After 10 Setbacks

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Tapers had good reason to celebrate today. Their famine in the American Basketball League is over.

The hungry Tapers finally tasted victory Tuesday night after 10 consecutive setbacks. In the only game played, Philadelphia, led by Andy Johnson's 29 points, defeated Pittsburgh Rens 110-102. Long Beach was scheduled to play at Oakland, but the game was postponed to Thursday.

Cincy, Buckeyes Rate 1-2 On Poll

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's powerful basketball team, proud possessor of a 26-game winning streak, was the choice of The Associated Press panel today as the nation's top college cage team for the fourth straight week.

The Bearcats, who whipped Dayton and Davidson, surprise conqueror of highly rated Duke, to extend their unbeaten string to eight last week, were the first choice of all 45 sports writers and sportscasters comprising The AP panel. It marked the first time that the Bearcats were made a unanimous choice.

Unbeaten Ohio State (6-0) and Loyola of Chicago (7-0) each moved up a peg, to second and third respectively. The Buckeyes, who whipped Detroit 101-66 in their only game last week, narrowly edged out the Ramblers for runner-up spot, 376 points to 368. Loyola whipped Western Michigan Indiana and Seattle last week, but was held to 93 points by the Chieftans, marking the first time in seven games that the Ramblers failed to top the 100 mark.

Illinois, which extended its unbeaten string to five with a 93-90 triumph over Oklahoma, vaulted from eighth to fourth as Colorado, West Virginia and Seattle all dropped out of the top ten and were replaced by Arizona State, Southern California and Stanford, who made the elite list for the first time this season.

Arizona State, which whipped Colorado and Minnesota on successive nights to boost its record to 7-1, jumped into sixth place, behind Kentucky. The Wildcats (5-2) added two victories, beating Iowa and West Virginia, the latter for the Kentucky Invitational championship, 79-75 last Saturday.

Southern California zoomed into seventh place on the strength of a pair of weekend victories over Nebraska which boosted the Trojans' record to 9-0. Duke, beaten by Miami as well as Davidson, fell from second all the way to eighth place, barely beating out Stanford and Mississippi State. The Blue Devils received 92 points to 91 for Stanford and 90 for Mississippi State.

1. Cincinnati (45)	8	0	450
2. Ohio State	6	0	376
3. Loyola Chicago	7	0	368

6. Arizona State	7	1	111

Don't ask Wilt and Willie what's wrong with the Warriors. They've got a ready answer.

The new San Francisco 1-2 scoring punch of Wilt Chamberlain and Willie Naulls fired another broadside Tuesday night as the Warriors continued to show improvement since a recent 10-game losing streak, edging St. Louis 94-91 for their fourth consecutive victory.

Chamberlain scored 32 points and Naulls, acquired in a trade with New York, contributed 22 points in the first game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at New York. In the nightcap, Syracuse ended a three-game losing streak by subduing the Knicks 123-111.

In the only other game scheduled, Oscar Robertson scored 35 points and picked up 13 assists while carrying Cincinnati to a 131-120 decision over Detroit.

Montreal And Detroit Goalies Are Standouts

By The Associated Press

Jacques Plante and Terry Sawchuk, a couple of masked, veteran goalies, have combined talents to make it a four-team race for the No. 1 spot in the National Hockey League.

Plante had to make only 19 saves in recording his third shutout of the season for Montreal Tuesday night as the Canadiens blasted leading Chicago 6-0. Sawchuk helped Detroit break Toronto's five-game unbeaten string 2-1.

Boston won its fifth game of the season, 6-2 over New York in the other game.

Boxer, Knocked Out Sept. 21, Still In Coma

But the Argentine heavyweight was able to eat a special Christmas meal at California Lutheran Hospital. Although he never opens his eyes, he has been responding to stimuli and taking food through his mouth for some time.

Lavorante, 26, underwent three brain operations after he was knocked out Sept. 21 by Johnny Riggins. Doctors haven't given up hope he will emerge from the coma but they can't predict when.

Sherman Pro Coach Of '62

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coach Allie Sherman of the New York Giants — who never made the grade as a first-string pro player —was named professional Coach of the Year today by the Washington Touchdown Club.

Sherman, 39, whose Eastern Division champions vie for the National Football League crown Sunday against the Green Bay Packers, will be honored by the club at its annual awards dinner, Jan. 12.

In his two years as Giant coach —years in which his charges have captured two Eastern Division championships — Sherman has compiled a 22-5 won-lost record, with one tie game. The Giants lost the NFL title game to Green Bay last year. This year, the New Yorkers have rolled up a 12-2 mark.

The Associated Press named Sherman its pro coach of the year in 1961. He succeeded Jim Lee Howell as Giants coach in 1960.

Note to new cooks: keep white as well as black pepper on hand. Use the white pepper in a light-colored dish when you don't want grains of black pepper to show.

By TOM DYGARD

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — True enough, quarterback Glynn Griffing is the big gun of Mississippi's football attack.

But when the Rebels tangle with Arkansas in the nationally-televised Sugar Bowl game here New Year's Day, you might do well to keep your eye on the second-string quarterback, Jim Weatherly.

If Ole Miss tradition holds true, Weatherly, a sophomore, is slated for big things next year—the signal-calling job on a major football power, perhaps even All-America contention.

Last year, for example, Griffing was the hungry stand-in, working behind Doug Elmore, pushing Elmore for the top job, preparing himself to fill the first-team shoes.

The year before, Elmore worked under Jake Gibbs, an All-America, and the year before that, Gibbs played behind Bobby Franklin.

Because Griffing is a senior and Weatherly is a sophomore, Weatherly stands a good chance of being the first Mississippi quarterback to hold forth for two years since Bobby Franklin did it in 1958 and 1959.

After missing the first two games because of a leg bruise, he came on fast behind Griffing, finishing the season with 230 yards gained rushing on 35 carries—a 6.6-yard average—and 180 yards passing. He completed 15 of 25 passes, three of them for touchdowns.

Laver Sends Australia Off To Early Cup Lead

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

BRISBANE Australia (AP)—Rod Laver, playing crushing tennis, and veteran Neale Fraser, hanging on grimly on tiring legs, sent Australia off to an imposing 2-0 lead with the opening singles today in the 1962 Davis Cup challenge round.

The flashy, brilliant Laver uncorked the form that carried him to a grand slam sweep of major championships in smashing Mexico's No. 1 pride, Rafael Osuna, in 69 crisp minutes 6-2, 6-1, 7-5.

Fraser, a 29-year-old, playing in his fifth challenge round weathered a powerful challenge by stylish Antonio Palafox for a 7-9, 6-3, 6-4, 11-9 triumph that took two hours, 50 minutes.

Thus Australians under wily Captain Harry Hopman were in a position to clinch their tenth Davis Cup victory in the last 12 years Thursday when the doubles will be played on Milton Courts here.

The Mexicans are conceded a good chance of prolonging the series by winning the tandem match since Osuna and Palafox have been playing together for years and won the American championship in the past year at Brookline, Mass.

The Australian team was not announced, but it is almost certain to be Laver and Roy Emerson, the latter the world's No. 2 player who asked to be excused from a singles assignment because of bruised ribs.

It was a case of wasted opportunities for the talented Mexican who repeatedly had the Aussie veteran on the ropes, but never could deal a knockout blow.

It was the first challenge round for the tense 26-year-old Mexican stylist and he was obviously the victim of his own inexperience.

On the other hand, sheer doggedness won for the weary Fraser, who was a surprise last minute replacement for the ailing Emerson.

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Hey, mom, you can wash those tablecloths. Today's the day junior starts executing those basketball plays he's been diagraming on your best linen all week.

In countless cities, towns, villages and hamlets throughout the country, the scribbling stops and the firing starts as the nation's collegians return from a holiday layoff to the heaviest Christmas tournament schedule in history.

Eight major tournaments get under way today—including the star-studded Top Six—three more join in Thursday and an additional 10 start Friday in action that will reach its peak Saturday when 19 coveted championships will be decided. Numerous minor holiday tourneys also get under way.

Of the country's top ten elite, six will be campaigning for higher honors in the top tourneys—third-ranked Loyola of Chicago, No. 4 Illinois, sixth-rated Arizona State, No. 7 Southern California, ninth-ranked Stanford and No. 10 Mississippi State.

The others—top-rated Cincinnati No. 2 Ohio State, fifth-ranked Kentucky and No. 8 Duke—will hold their share of the spotlight, but they'll be outside the tournament limelight.

Los Angeles Classic—Colorado State U., 5-2, vs. Southern California, 9-0, and St. Louis, 4-3, vs. Washington, 3-3, in afternoon games, Utah State, 7-1, vs. UCLA, 7-2, and Stanford, 7-0, vs. Northwestern, 2-5, in night games.

Quaker City—Providence, 4-2, vs. Delaware, 5-1, and Villanova, 3-2, vs. Manhattan, 4-1, afternoon. LaSalle, 4-2, vs. BYU, 3-5, and St. Joseph's, Pa., 5-2, vs. Bowling Green, 4-0, night.

All-College—Creighton, 6-4, vs. Wyoming, 3-4, and Oklahoma City 3-5, vs. Baylor, 3-3. The first round will be completed Thursday with Memphis State, 5-2, vs. Toledo, 4-2, and Chicago Loyola, 7-0, vs. Arkansas, 3-3.

Far West—Iowa, 2-4, vs. Arizona, 5-2, and Oregon, 2-3, vs. Washington State, 2-3. The first round will be completed Thursday with Seattle, 5-1, vs. California, 6-1, and Oregon State, 3-3, vs. Idaho, 5-0.

Big Eight—Colorado, 5-2, vs. Kansas, 4-4, and Iowa State, 4-3, vs. Nebraska, 4-4. The first round will be completed Thursday with Kansas State, 2-5, vs. Missouri, 4-4, and Oklahoma State, 7-1, vs. Oklahoma, 4-4.

Also getting under way today are the Western College Athletic Conference tourney at San Francisco and the Gulf South Classic at Shreveport, La. Both have eight-team fields with Thursday action winding up the first round.

Rose Bowl Teams Drill Undercover

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Wisconsin and Southern California moved behind guarded practice field gates today as Rose Bowl fever surged for the first post season meeting of the nation's top two football powers.

The Badgers and Trojans entered the stretch run of drills for their meeting in the 49th Rose Bowl game New Year's Day while followers argued the merits of their favorite.

West Coast fans, who watched Southern Cal roll up 10 straight victories and earn the No. 1 rating among the country's collegiate teams, are virtually united in the belief that the Trojans are unbeatable. Some appear almost sorry for the visiting Badgers.

Midwest fans solidly back the Badgers, the champions of the rugged Big Ten and ranked just behind Southern Cal in the final national poll of The Associated Press. Wisconsin had an 8-1 record, losing only to Ohio State.

Tapers Finally Win After 10 Setbacks

By The Associated Press

The hungry Tapers finally tasted victory Tuesday night after 10 consecutive setbacks. In the only game played, Philadelphia, led by Andy Johnson's 29 points, defeated Pittsburgh Rens 110-102. Long Beach was scheduled to play at Oakland, but the game was postponed to Thursday.

Cincy, Buckeyes Rate 1-2 On Poll

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cincinnati's powerful basketball team, proud possessor of a 26-game winning streak, was the choice of The Associated Press panel today as the nation's top college cage team for the fourth straight week.

The Bearcats, who whipped Dayton and Davidson, surprise conqueror of highly rated Duke, to extend their unbeaten string to eight last week, were the first choice of all 45 sports writers and sportscasters comprising The AP panel. It marked the first time that the Bearcats were made a unanimous choice.

Unbeaten Ohio State (6-0) and Loyola of Chicago (7-0) each moved up a peg, to second and third respectively. The Buckeyes, who whipped Detroit 101-66 in their only game last week, narrowly edged out the Ramblers for runner-up spot, 376 points to 368. Loyola whipped Western Michigan Indiana and Seattle last week, but was held to 93 points by the Chieftans, marking the first time in seven games that the Ramblers failed to top the 100 mark.

Illinois, which extended its unbeaten string to five with a 93-90 triumph over Oklahoma, vaulted from eighth to fourth as Colorado, West Virginia and Seattle all dropped out of the top ten and were replaced by Arizona State, Southern California and Stanford, who made the elite list for the first time this season.

Arizona State, which whipped Colorado and Minnesota on successive nights to boost its record to 7-1, jumped into sixth place, behind Kentucky. The Wildcats (5-2) added two victories, beating Iowa and West Virginia, the latter for the Kentucky Invitational championship, 79-75 last Saturday.

Southern California zoomed into seventh place on the strength of a pair of weekend victories over Nebraska which boosted the Trojans' record to 9-0. Duke, beaten by Miami as well as Davidson, fell from second all the way to eighth place, barely beating out Stanford and Mississippi State. The Blue Devils received 92 points to 91 for Stanford and 90 for Mississippi State.

Don't ask Wilt and Willie what's wrong with the Warriors. They've got a ready answer.

The new San Francisco 1-2 scoring punch of Wilt Chamberlain and Willie Naulls fired another broadside Tuesday night as the Warriors continued to show improvement since a recent 10-game losing streak, edging St. Louis 94-91 for their fourth consecutive victory.

Chamberlain scored 32 points and Naulls, acquired in a trade with New York, contributed 22 points in the first game of a National Basketball Association doubleheader at New York. In the nightcap, Syracuse ended a three-game losing streak by subduing the Knicks 123-111.

In the only other game scheduled, Oscar Robertson scored 35 points and picked up 13 assists while carrying Cincinnati to a 131-120 decision over Detroit.

Montreal And Detroit Goalies Are Standouts

By The Associated Press

Jacques Plante and Terry Sawchuk, a couple of masked, veteran goalies, have combined talents to make it a four-team race for the No. 1 spot in the National Hockey League.

Plante had to make only 19 saves in recording his third shutout of the season for Montreal Tuesday night as the Canadiens blasted leading Chicago 6-0. Sawchuk helped Detroit break Toronto's five-game unbeaten string 2-1.

Boston won its fifth game of the season, 6-2 over New York in the other game.

The result left Chicago alone on top, but only two points ahead of Toronto and Detroit, tied for second. Montreal is just two points further back.

But the Argentine heavyweight was able to eat a special Christmas meal at California Lutheran Hospital. Although he never opens his eyes, he has been responding to stimuli and taking food through his mouth for some time.

Lavorante, 26, underwent three brain operations after he was knocked out Sept. 21 by Johnny Riggins. Doctors haven't given up hope he will emerge from the coma but they can't predict when.

Scholarship Program To Be Offered Caddies

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some of those kids who cart your golf clubs around are going to get a Christmas present from the Ohio Golf Association.

The association, which has 125 golf clubs through Ohio in its membership, will begin a program next year to provide college educations to deserving Ohio youths who are golf caddies.

Earl Hamilton, president of the association, says the OGA has affiliated with the nationwide Evans Scholars Foundation in conducting a caddies scholarship program.

"We believe that the OGA will have 50 Evans scholars in college within two years, and we are hopeful that we'll have 100 Evans scholars eventually," Hamilton said.

There are about 18 golf associations in the country which have similar programs, including the Cleveland District Golf Association.

Hamilton explained that the OGA will sponsor all Ohio area boys, except in the Cleveland District, which will continue its operation.

The Evans Scholars Foundation, begun in 1930 and named for famed golfer Chick Evans, is the educational arm of the Western Golf Association.

Since its formation, the program has awarded more than 1,350 scholarships.

In the current academic year, there are 455 Evans scholars in college in 25 schools. The scholarship is a grant, not a loan, and covers tuition and housing.

Hamilton reports all caddies at OGA clubs are eligible immediately to apply for a scholarship. To become a candidate, a boy must graduate in the upper 25 per cent of his high school class and must require financial assistance.

"Actually, we are taking over a going concern," Hamilton stressed. "Many OGA clubs have been active in the Evans scholars development for several years directly through the Western Golf Association. As a result, the WGA has 28 Evans scholars from Ohio this year, including 23 in the newly organized chapter at Ohio State University.

"The WGA is assisting us in setting up the OGA program. The difference now is that this will be completely an Ohio program for Ohio boys and run by an Ohio organization. We will take over sponsorship of the Ohio State chapter," Hamilton added.

Dan Carmichael, WGA director from Columbus, is the chairman of the OGA Scholarship Committee and will supervise the selection of applicants next spring.

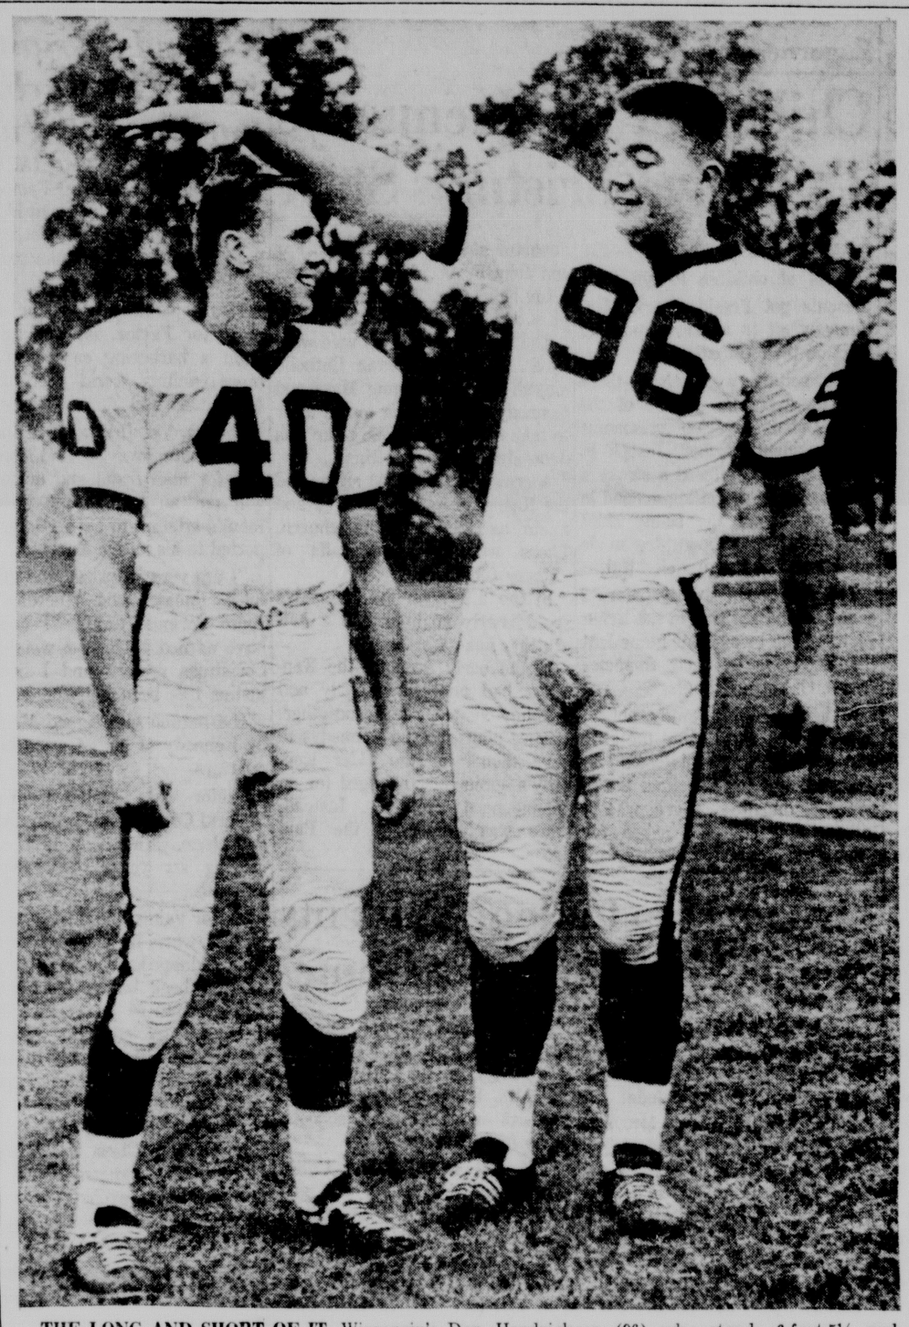
The scholarship is renewable for four years by meeting certain academic standards. Each scholarship has an average value in excess of $2,500.

Hamilton said the OGA estimates it will spend $30,000 next year in a goal to put 26 boys in the program.

Money for the program comes from individual contributions to the foundation each year through the bag tag program and the WGA par club membership fee of $100.

Hamilton summed it up this way:

"We feel that we are joining forces with one of the best known charities in the fields of education and sports."



THE LONG AND SHORT OF IT. Wisconsin's Don Hendrickson (96) who stands 6-foot-5½ and weighs 261 pounds, checks over right half Bill Smith who reaches 5-foot-10 and weighs 158 pounds. The Wisconsin Badgers will meet Southern Cal in the 49th Rose Bowl game New Year's Day. (UPI Telephoto)

Rematch Of Floyd, Liston Seen As Bad For Boxing

NEW ORLEANS AP)—An official of the World Boxing Association, disclosing terms of a contract calling for heavyweight champion Sonny Liston to give the man he dethroned — Floyd Patterson—a rematch, says any state or nation allowing such a bout should be suspended by the organization.

Emile Bruneau, chairman of the WBA's world championship committee, told newsmen the contract calls for Liston to give Patterson a rematch or surrender a percentage of his purse in future fights until he has paid the ex-champion $1 million.

In Tacoma, Wash., Dr. Charles P. Larson, president of the WBA —successor to the National Boxing Association—said Bruneau "pretty well expressed the opinion of all of us.

"I'm not going to make any further comment at this time," Larson said Monday, "except to say that we simply feel that a rematch would be the worst thing possible for boxing at the moment."

MacArthur Will Referee For NCAA-AAU Battle

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the middle man in a dispute between the Amateur Athletic Association and the National Collegiate Athletic Association 34 years ago, has stepped in to try and make the current controversy die and fade away.

The five-star general earlier this week accepted President Kennedy's request to attempt to referee the feud over certification of U.S. athletes for the 1964 Olympic Games.

It was understood, however, that only the NCAA was willing to accept arbitration. The AAU, which is being challenged by the NCAA for authority to certify American athletes for the 1964 summer Olympics in Tokyo, must poll its 32-man executive committee before agreeing to the talks.

MacArthur, 82, served as president of the 1928 American Olympic Committee at a time when the NCAA was emerging as a factor in U.S. amateur sports.

South Korea Dedicates $5 Million Fun Center

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—South Korea's military government dedicated today a giant $5-million fun center named Walker Hill in honor of the late U.S. Lt. Gen. W. H. Walker.

The government hopes the entertainment center will attract U.S. dollars that American troops spend on furlough in Japan. But U.S. commanders have warned the 157-acre area will be put off limits if prostitution and crooked gambling become features.

Cubans Claim Record For Unloading Ship

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana Radio claimed today 400 Cuban longshoremen and 200 members of the Cuban Red Cross unloaded and checked merchandise aboard the U.S. freighter African Pilot in 19 hours and 5 minutes.

The broadcast, heard here, said the longshoremen, working in shifts, had set a record.

The state with the largest legislative body is New Hampshire, whose legislative membership varies from 375 to 400.

Freed GI Forced To Sign Papers Damaging To U.S.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Army sergeant released by Communist guerrillas Christmas Eve has told military authorities he was forced to sign several documents damaging to the United States and South Viet Nam during his captivity.

An Army spokesman said Sgt. Roque S. Matagulay of Richmond, Calif., who was in Communist captivity for five months, has told interrogators he had signed four statements in November, while suffering from a severe attack of malaria.

He said he was subjected to four months of continuous propaganda lectures prior to the signing of the documents, the Army spokesman reported.

The spokesman quoted Matagulay as saying:

"My illness, scarce medical attention and constant verbal harassment culminated in signing the documents so my captors would leave me alone."

Matagulay, 30, said the documents bitterly attacked the pro-West government of President Ngo Dinh Diem and the American policy of supporting South Viet Nam's government. Matagualey said he personally does not believe any of the statements he signed.

The documents were the "usual Communist propaganda line," he said, requiring only his signature. He later had to read them out to his Communist captors and believed they were recorded.

Matagulay said he refused to sign any further documents after he had recovered from malaria.

Scholarship Program To Be Offered Caddies

By HAL PARIS

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some of those kids who cart your golf clubs around are going to get a Christmas present from the Ohio Golf Association.

The association, which has 125 golf clubs through Ohio in its membership, will begin a program next year to provide college educations to deserving Ohio youths who are golf caddies.

Earl Hamilton, president of the association, says the OGA has affiliated with the nationwide Evans Scholars Foundation in conducting a caddies scholarship program.

"We believe that the OGA will have 50 Evans scholars in college within two years, and we are hopeful that we'll have 100 Evans scholars eventually," Hamilton said.

There are about 18 golf associations in the country which have similar programs, including the Cleveland District Golf Association.

Hamilton explained that the OGA will sponsor all Ohio area boys, except in the Cleveland District, which will continue its operation.

The Evans Scholars Foundation, begun in 1930 and named for famed golfer Chick Evans, is the educational arm of the Western Golf Association.

Since its formation, the program has awarded more than 1,350 scholarships.

In the current academic year, there are 455 Evans scholars in college in 25 schools. The scholarship is a grant, not a loan, and covers tuition and housing.

Hamilton reports all caddies at OGA clubs are eligible immediately to apply for a scholarship. To become a candidate, a boy must graduate in the upper 25 per cent of his high school class and must require financial assistance.

"Actually, we are taking over a going concern," Hamilton stressed. "Many OGA clubs have been active in the Evans scholars development for several years directly through the Western Golf Association. As a result, the WGA has 28 Evans scholars from Ohio this year, including 23 in the newly organized chapter at Ohio State University.

"The WGA is assisting us in setting up the OGA program. The difference now is that this will be completely an Ohio program for Ohio boys and run by an Ohio organization. We will take over sponsorship of the Ohio State chapter," Hamilton added.

Dan Carmichael, WGA director from Columbus, is the chairman of the OGA Scholarship Committee and will supervise the selection of applicants next spring.

The scholarship is renewable for four years by meeting certain academic standards. Each scholarship has an average value in excess of $2,500.

Hamilton said the OGA estimates it will spend $30,000 next year in a goal to put 26 boys in the program.

Money for the program comes from individual contributions to the foundation each year through the bag tag program and the WGA par club membership fee of $100.

Hamilton summed it up this way:

"We feel that we are joining forces with one of the best known charities in the fields of education and sports."

Rematch Of Floyd, Liston Seen As Bad For Boxing

NEW ORLEANS AP)—An official of the World Boxing Association, disclosing terms of a contract calling for heavyweight champion Sonny Liston to give the man he dethroned — Floyd Patterson—a rematch, says any state or nation allowing such a bout should be suspended by the organization.

Emile Bruneau, chairman of the WBA's world championship committee, told newsmen the contract calls for Liston to give Patterson a rematch or surrender a percentage of his purse in future fights until he has paid the ex-champion $1 million.

In Tacoma, Wash., Dr. Charles P. Larson, president of the WBA —successor to the National Boxing Association—said Bruneau "pretty well expressed the opinion of all of us.

"I'm not going to make any further comment at this time," Larson said Monday, "except to say that we simply feel that a rematch would be the worst thing possible for boxing at the moment."

MacArthur Will Referee For NCAA-AAU Battle

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, the middle man in a dispute between the Amateur Athletic Association and the National Collegiate Athletic Association 34 years ago, has stepped in to try and make the current controversy die and fade away.

The five-star general earlier this week accepted President Kennedy's request to attempt to referee the feud over certification of U.S. athletes for the 1964 Olympic Games.

It was understood, however, that only the NCAA was willing to accept arbitration. The AAU, which is being challenged by the NCAA for authority to certify American athletes for the 1964 summer Olympics in Tokyo, must poll its 32-man executive committee before agreeing to the talks.

MacArthur, 82, served as president of the 1928 American Olympic Committee at a time when the NCAA was emerging as a factor in U.S. amateur sports.

South Korea Dedicates $5 Million Fun Center

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—South Korea's military government dedicated today a giant $5-million fun center named Walker Hill in honor of the late U.S. Lt. Gen. W. H. Walker.

The government hopes the entertainment center will attract U.S. dollars that American troops spend on furlough in Japan. But U.S. commanders have warned the 157-acre area will be put off limits if prostitution and crooked gambling become features.

Cubans Claim Record For Unloading Ship

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Havana Radio claimed today 400 Cuban longshoremen and 200 members of the Cuban Red Cross unloaded and checked merchandise aboard the U.S. freighter African Pilot in 19 hours and 5 minutes.

The broadcast, heard here, said the longshoremen, working in shifts, had set a record.

The state with the largest legislative body is New Hampshire, whose legislative membership varies from 375 to 400.

Freed GI Forced To Sign Papers Damaging To U.S.

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A U.S. Army sergeant released by Communist guerrillas Christmas Eve has told military authorities he was forced to sign several documents damaging to the United States and South Viet Nam during his captivity.

An Army spokesman said Sgt. Roque S. Matagulay of Richmond, Calif., who was in Communist captivity for five months, has told interrogators he had signed four statements in November, while suffering from a severe attack of malaria.

He said he was subjected to four months of continuous propaganda lectures prior to the signing of the documents, the Army spokesman reported.

The spokesman quoted Matagulay as saying:

"My illness, scarce medical attention and constant verbal harassment culminated in signing the documents so my captors would leave me alone."

Matagulay, 30, said the documents bitterly attacked the pro-West government of President Ngo Dinh Diem and the American policy of supporting South Viet Nam's government. Matagualey said he personally does not believe any of the statements he signed.

The documents were the "usual Communist propaganda line," he said, requiring only his signature. He later had to read them out to his Communist captors and believed they were recorded.

Matagulay said he refused to sign any further documents after he had recovered from malaria.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

We'll Call Her 'Red' For Short

The American Broadcasting Co. talks about the "Voice of Firestone" the way Shubert Alley talks about "My Fair Lady." After all — and discounting that rude, three-year interruption — ABC's "Lady" has been lifting her voice on radio and TV for 31 seasons, which puts her 24½ seasons up on her theatrical cousin. But every long run needs a Liza Doolittle, and I suppose the "Voice of Firestone's" Liza must be Rise Stevens.

Alan Gill

MISS STEVENS — and hereafter we'll call her "Red," uttered in breathless awe, but don't tell her about it — was the prima donna at the grand reopening this fall, just as she has been prima donna-ing around the premises on 1,000 occasions.

Red held open house one recent afternoon, wearing a smashing dress and looking 10 years younger than Debbie Reynolds — though it was her hair, red as autumn in full burst, and her speaking voice, clear as spring, that dazzled a brave intruder. But let's forget the nature studies and get on to the libretto.

And: "It's an old, dear friend."

But: "The Met is my favorite home. Opera singers are a jolly lot. Seeing them is like seeing laughter. And I think the laughter comes partly out of their conditioning: they feel good.

"They lead less hectic lives, they're athletic, careful. In this country they go about in cliques—the English with the English the Italians with the Italians. But in Rome, it's everybody together in one grand celebration. You go to a fantastic restaurant for a huge dinner and then on to a coffee house until 2 a.m."

"There have been good actors in opera in the past (Geraldine Farrar!), but yes, I'm the first of my era.

"Carmen's my part. I sang it first in Prague before the war but determined I wouldn't sing it again until I had it under my belt.

"Eddie Johnson, when I joined the Met, approached me about doing it, but I wasn't ready. I'd tell him, I said, when the day arrived. Carmen had to be rethought, reconceived. Carmen had to be dynamic, catlike, dirty, sexy.

"Then, after the war came Sir Tony — Tyrone Guthrie — and nothing stands still for Tony. He lived then in a houseboat on the Thames. It gave him the feeling of moving, moving. And moved 'Carmen' onto the Met stage with such verve! Rightly enough, the production was a wow mostly among the drama critics."

What triumphs lie ahead for Rise Stevens? A "Lady in the Dark" album is coming up, and—who knows? — maybe even a Broadway musical. Maybe a modern opera, too, though "the composers would rather have less-known singers; the day of writing especially for the prima donna is over."

"They press on the vocal cords. We sing with them, through them. We open them up. Both can be art.

"But of all the pop singers, I like Frank. Sinatra has something no one else has, and I guess it's personality."

A gentleman, at this point, entered the room, circled it, shook hands with the intruder, said, "Pleased to meet you," pointed at Red, said, "That's my wife," and disappeared.

"Walter Surovy," Red told me. "Since I married Walter, life has been one eternal, wonderful, joyous joke."

Ahh, Red!

West Virginia Mishaps Take Lives Of Ten

By The Associated Press

At least 10 persons died accidentally in West Virginia during the four-day Christmas weekend. Eight lost their lives in traffic mishaps and two children perished in a fire.

Mose Watkins, 60, of Elkhorn, McDowell County, died last night in a two-car collision on U.S. 52 near Elkhorn. Four others were hurt in the mishap.

A tractor veered off W. Va. 10 near Logan Monday and rolled down an embankment, killing Harold Logan, 38, of Chapmanville, a chief mechanic for the State Road Commission.

Gans Ridgway, 73, of Uffington, died when his car was involved in a collision on W. Va. 73 about three miles south of Morgantown Sunday. His automobile landed in Booth Creek, and Ridgeway was dead when rescuers arrived.

A Cleveland youth, Robert Samuel Haga, 19, was killed in an accident on the West Virginia Turnpike, about 19 miles north of Princeton.

George H. Baxter, 51, of Flemington, was struck and killed by a car Saturday on W. Va. 77 near his home.

Sen. Case Cites Move To Change Filibuster Rule

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., said today President Kennedy could assure a change in the Senate's filibuster rule if he would support a bipartisan move toward that goal.

Case, a liberal Republican, said in a report to constituents that efforts will be made at the beginning of the new Congress to get a vote on changing the present requirement for an affirmative vote of two-thirds of those participating to cut off debate.

This proposal is given no chance of Senate approval. But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois may get behind a motion that would permit three-fifths of those voting to limit debate.

The fire was the second to strike in the Como family recently. Fire gutted the apartment owned by Como's grandmother, Mrs. Bessie Clendenning, of 138 W. Church Ln., Dec. 13.

Eagerness For Presents

Children Press Kennedys To Early Christmas Start

The setting was bright—there was the weekend release of the 1,113 Cuban invasion prisoners; the President's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who suffered a stroke a year ago, is now getting around in a wheel chair; the sunny skies and 80-degree temperature made an afternoon cruise delightful.

The day began shortly before 8 a. m. around the tree in the living room of the beachfront home lent the Kennedys by their financier friend, C. Michael Paul.

In keeping with family policy, there was no word about the gifts the President and his wife exchanged. But for Caroline, the 5-year-old daughter, there was a talking doll she had asked for when Mrs. Kennedy took her to a department store Santa Claus. For son John F. Jr., now 2, there was a toy helicopter. There were other gifts and toys for the children.

The President and his wife went to St. Edwards Roman Catholic church for midmorning Mass and Kennedy strode alone to the altar to take communion. The altar was decorated with poinsettias.

In the early evening, the Kennedys had an eggnog party and Caroline visited her grandfather. Earlier plans for the Kennedys to have dinner at the elder Kennedy's home were changed for an unannounced reason. Instead, there was dinner at the Paul house.

Kennedy Grants Jake The Barber Pardon For Yule

This apparently wipes the slate clean for Factor, 70, who turned from a barbering career to the more exciting world peopled by Al Capone and Roger Touhy.

The pardon, first applied for in 1958, clears away a 1943 conviction for mail fraud and evidently will put an end to the government's attempt to have Factor deported to his native England.

"I am very surprised and grateful," Factor said Tuesday at Palm Springs, Calif., "I hope I have earned it. It is a wonderful Christmas present and I believe justice has been done."

Factor was paroled from the Federal Correctional Institution at Sandstone, Minn., in 1949 after serving six years of a 10-year sentence.

Factor gained national attention in 1933 when he charged he had been kidnaped by Touhy, a prohibition beer baron. Touhy was sentenced to 99 years on kidnap charges, paroled after 25—and mysteriously shotgunned to death on the steps of his Chicago apartment building days later.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

We'll Call Her 'Red' For Short

The American Broadcasting Co. talks about the "Voice of Firestone" the way Shubert Alley talks about "My Fair Lady." After all — and discounting that rude, three-year interruption — ABC's "Lady" has been lifting her voice on radio and TV for 31 seasons, which puts her 24½ seasons up on her theatrical cousin. But every long run needs a Liza Doolittle, and I suppose the "Voice of Firestone's" Liza must be Rise Stevens.

Alan Gill

MISS STEVENS — and hereafter we'll call her "Red," uttered in breathless awe, but don't tell her about it — was the prima donna at the grand reopening this fall, just as she has been prima donna-ing around the premises on 1,000 occasions.

This first of the first ladies of opera has enough incandescence in her smile to illuminate the entire Boston Post Road.

Red held open house one recent afternoon, wearing a smashing dress and looking 10 years younger than Debbie Reynolds — though it was her hair, red as autumn in full burst, and her speaking voice, clear as spring, that dazzled a brave intruder. But let's forget the nature studies and get on to the libretto.

And: "It's an old, dear friend."

But: "The Met is my favorite home. Opera singers are a jolly lot. Seeing them is like seeing laughter. And I think the laughter comes partly out of their conditioning: they feel good.

"They lead less hectic lives, they're athletic, careful. In this country they go about in cliques—the English with the English the Italians with the Italians. But in Rome, it's everybody together in one grand celebration. You go to a fantastic restaurant for a huge dinner and then on to a coffee house until 2 a.m."

She talked of her eminent place in the opera world and about her most celebrated role, Carmen.

"There have been good actors in opera in the past (Geraldine Farrar!), but yes, I'm the first of my era.

"Carmen's my part. I sang it first in Prague before the war but determined I wouldn't sing it again until I had it under my belt.

"Eddie Johnson, when I joined the Met, approached me about doing it, but I wasn't ready. I'd tell him, I said, when the day arrived. Carmen had to be rethought, reconceived. Carmen had to be dynamic, catlike, dirty, sexy.

"Then, after the war came Sir Tony — Tyrone Guthrie — and nothing stands still for Tony. He lived then in a houseboat on the Thames. It gave him the feeling of moving, moving. And moved 'Carmen' onto the Met stage with such verve! Rightly enough, the production was a wow mostly among the drama critics."

What triumphs lie ahead for Rise Stevens? A "Lady in the Dark" album is coming up, and—who knows? — maybe even a Broadway musical. Maybe a modern opera, too, though "the composers would rather have less-known singers; the day of writing especially for the prima donna is over."

"They press on the vocal cords. We sing with them, through them. We open them up. Both can be art.

"But of all the pop singers, I like Frank. Sinatra has something no one else has, and I guess it's personality."

A gentleman, at this point, entered the room, circled it, shook hands with the intruder, said, "Pleased to meet you," pointed at Red, said, "That's my wife," and disappeared.

"Walter Surovy," Red told me. "Since I married Walter, life has been one eternal, wonderful, joyous joke."

Ahh, Red!

Factor was paroled from the Federal Correctional Institution at Sandstone, Minn., in 1949 after serving six years of a 10-year sentence.

Factor gained national attention in 1933 when he charged he had been kidnaped by Touhy, a prohibition beer baron. Touhy was sentenced to 99 years on kidnap charges, paroled after 25—and mysteriously shotgunned to death on the steps of his Chicago apartment building days later.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Concentration Key To Study At Home

Several times in this column I have pointed out that a child's having a room all his own in which to do his homework doesn't guarantee he will practice good study habits. The very privacy and comfort of this room may encourage him to dawdle, daydream or sleep. If, however, he practices good habits of work, this may be an ideal place for him to study. Many parents whose children don't each have a separate, heated room in which to study may suppose these children are greatly handicapped. They could be, but need not be. Indeed, it were possible that they will do better than if they had separate rooms for study.

Dr. Garry Meyers

WHEN I WAS A school boy in a big family, I did my homework at the kitchen table where several brothers and sisters also did theirs. With some supervision by our parents, each learned to work at his own lessons. That experience has proved valuable to me since.

When our three children were tots, even when in the early grades, we had no separate rooms for them for studying. Nor had Mrs. Myers and I.

I couldn't do it so easily now. I was younger and more adaptable then.

Of course there was no radio or TV, but if there had been I'm sure it would have been turned off at study time. That would have required more parental supervision.

IT'S A SAFE GUESS that the average home today doesn't have a separate room for even one child to study in. This means that if each school child is going to work well at his lessons there must be good supervision.

It's no time then for radio or TV or for loud talking by others in the family. No time for neighbor children to be there for fun. Unexpected guests will be treated graciously, of course, but most neighbors and friends will know it is study time.

It is a time for every member of the family to be reading or doing something else quietly — for everybody in the family to be learning. Parents don't need to be college graduates to provide favorable conditions for their children to study well in the family's midst.

When our first two children were between two and six years old, Mrs. Myers often read aloud to one while I read to the other in the same room, sometimes not more than six feet apart. The older one, with more practice at listening, wanted a harder story than the next younger.

EACH LEARNED to concentrate on his lessons even in the midst of normal family voices. When they do so, they are practicing good habits of concentration.

Often in their later lives, their ability to shut out noises psychologically will prove valuable to them.

My bulletins, "The Child Who Doesn't Concentrate" and "Parents Can Help Child Succeed at School", may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

3 Men Are Jailed In Freedom Robbery

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP)—Three men were held in Portage County jail today in connection with a $140 armed robbery of a grocery store in Freedom, Pa., Christmas Eve.

The Ohio Turnpike Patrol said Robert J. Lenigan, 32, and Albert R. Sheetz, 32, both of Pittsburgh, admitted the robbery.

The third man, Charles L. Groves, 50, of Rt. 5, Wooster, Ohio, was held for investigation of robbery.

Turnpike patrolmen, alerted by a broadcast description of a car seen leaving the robbery scene, stopped an auto driven by Groves near the Akron interchange today.

When you are baking apple dumplings, you'll find that pie dough that is rolled about ⅛-inch thick and cut into 6-inch squares will enfold apples that are about 3 inches in diameter. The fruit for the dumplings should of course be pared and cored.

Milk Break Called Important To Pupils

A teacher, concerned with overweight among school children, has asked your dietitian some pertinent questions with regard to serving milk in school.

Ida Jean Kain

Since this subject is of national interest, I brought the matter to a group of experts, made up of 70 nutritionists and dietitians. Our school teacher would have been amazed at the lively discussion which her letter brought forth. First, the letter:

"As a mother and teacher, I have been greatly concerned about overweight children in school. Will you please give me your opinion on the following:

"Is it advisable for children of elementary school age, 5th and 6th grades who have an adequate diet and who are either of normal weight or overweight, to be served whole, unflavored milk an hour or so before lunch is served in school?

"DOES WHOLE milk increase weight? Is it desirable from the digestive point of view? Is it desirable when pupils have reached the 5th and 6th grades? Our school lunches are well balanced."

It is apparent the teacher is considering the need for milk in the morning in relation to the school lunch. However, the first question asked by the experts had to do with breakfast. Studies have shown that breakfast is commonly the poorest meal of the day.

The morning - lag - toward - learning that is too often present can be the result of skipping or skimping breakfast. Children cannot learn well on an empty stomach.

Nutritionists think in terms of nutrients and the need for specific amounts at a given age. For children between ages of 10 and 12, the nutrient requirement is high in proportion to their calorie needs. It is not only desirable, but essential for 10 and 12-year-olds to have three to four glasses of milk a day in order to meet their nutritional requirements for growth and development. For the normal child, milk is easily digestible.

On the weight score: No one food can be blamed for overweight, it's the total calories that count. For 165 calories a glass, milk furnishes its full share of body building nutrients.

To lessen calories, the overweight child should cut down on assorted carbohydrates — candy, rich pastries, soft drinks and other foods which contribute mainly empty calories. Also the suggestion was made that skim milk could be served at home.

THE CHIEF problem seems to be one of timing. If possible the milk should be served in the first part of the morning. On this score the experts were in unanimous agreement.

Some suggested that milk be served soon after school begins.

It was pointed out that for many children this milk break may be the only milk they get outside of lunch. Also, that children like to do things as a group, and those who drink milk at no other time may do so at school.

Cool Weather Fails To Stop Use Of Pool

PARSONS, Kan. (AP) — There's no use letting the city swimming pool go unused just because cool weather has arrived.

The Parsons Recreation Commission and Kiwanis Club pumped water from a nearby creek into the city swimming pool, which had been drained for the winter, ordered 1,350 trout from a hatchery and organized a fishing contest for youngsters from kindergarten age through the sixth grade.

Khrushchev's Shift

By Marguerite Higgins

Soviet Premier Khrushchev has given the first sign of a shift in Soviet demands on Berlin.

When the text of his Moscow speech reached here, officials discovered that Khrushchev had abandoned Russia's stock insistence that Western troops get out of Berlin. The point had apparently been missed by much of the Moscow press.

Other unacceptable conditions remain, officials cautioned. The significance of the Soviet shift is that until now their demand for a Western exit from the city has been a main cause of the stalemate on Berlin negotiations.

This shift is only one of the reasons for the note of optimism the New Frontier is now permitting itself to sound, if not loud, increasingly fortissimo.

George Ball, acting secretary of state, predicted, with White House approval, the onset of "the first faint signs of a change for the better in the cold war."

THIS PREDICTION is indeed a milestone. In his inaugural address, President Kennedy set the opposite tone saying: "The tide of events has been running out and time has not been our friend. There will be further setbacks before the tide is turned."

And despite the general relief that set in after Cuba, no New Frontiersmen has been authorized to air the thought that the tide might, at last, be turning.

Mr. Ball made his prediction at a speech in New York before the New York Bar Association.

In another prophecy, he also stated that "tidal forces are at work behind the Iron Curtain as well as on this side."

It was Mr. Ball's view that as a result of the Cuban crisis "we may be passing from a period of rigidity in world politics into an era of greater mobility and maneuver." But he balanced this with the warning that the "profound political changes" ahead could bring hazards as well as opportunities.

The hazards in Mr. Khrushchev's latest gambit on Berlin are the hookers in an outwardly smooth proposal, officials said.

Here is Mr. Khrushchev's key paragraph on Berlin: "The main controversial issue remains that of the presence of troops in West Berlin, or, more accurately, the question as to the status and under what flag these troops shall be there, and for how long they will remain there.

The Soviet Union proposes that the troops situated in West Berlin should be replaced with that of the United Nations, and that the United Nations should take upon itself specific international undertakings and functions there . . ."

IN OTHER WORDS, Mr. Khrushchev now seems ready to accept the presence of Western troops in West Berlin provided that they are there under a United Nations flag rather than a NATO flag.

This has all sorts of complications including the impact on Berlin morale of a move that would seem to strip the city of NATO protection. But is at least better than Russia's previous insistence that the West get out of Berlin altogether.

Of changes in the Communist camp mentioned by Mr. Ball, a main one was the Sino - Soviet dispute which he said "is now dramatically visible to all."

Mr. Ball also said that the immediate value of the Cuban experience has been a demonstration to the world of the power and resolution of America and a demonstration of the restraint and care with which that power is used.

City, Wellsville Post Offices Clean Up On Christmas Mail

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown and his staff enjoyed a brief respite from the Christmas rush today, but no doubt with mixed emotions. The Wellsville Post Office also cleaned up its Yule mail.

Brown explained that the large mailers were asked to withhold large volumes of mail until after the Christmas rush before making their year-end deposits to beat the deadline for the rate increases.

"Quite a few went along with the request, and we're enjoying a respite today, but from here on in it will be a battle," Brown declared.

First class letter postage rates will be hiked from four cents to a nickle, effective Jan. 7. Brown pointed out that letters bearing four - cent stamps must be received at the post office before 8:30 p. m. Jan. 6 in order to qualify for the rate now in effect.

Mailmen were on the job Tuesday delivering parcels and packages marked Christmas, along with special deliveries and perishable packages.

The postmaster general's rule is that mail marked "Christmas Parcels" will be delivered Dec. 25 if it arrives in time. Brown said there weren't many deliveries to be made Tuesday in two truck loads from Steubenville that arrived here at 6:30 and 11:45 a. m. "but a few would have been disappointed if we hadn't made the deliveries."

This is 533 more pieces than the 177,773 total for the same period last year. The figures do not include parcel post, machine stamped mail, etc., nor several thousand pieces that were hand-canceled.

Evans said postal employes delivered 35 Christmas parcels Tuesday afternoon in a cleanup.

Grabbed Control In 3 States

GOP Picked Up 150 Seats In State Legislatures

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans scored net gains of about 150 seats in state legislatures in the Nov. 6 election, and in the process ousted Democrats from control of both Senate and House in three states — Pennsylvania, Colorado and Utah.

Democrats still will control both legislative chambers in 26 states. The Republicans will have such two-house command in 19 states; and in four states control will be divided.

Before the election, Democrats dominated both legislative branches in 28 states, the Republicans in 14; and in 7 states control was divided.

(Nebraska has a one-chamber legislature of 43 senators elected without political labels; therefore it cannot be classified.)

The legislatures of the 50 states have about 7,500 members. Net Republican gains of around 150 are small in proportion to the total of seats but the gains are hailed by the GOP high command here as a sign of party progress. Republican leaders point, in particular, to a net pickup of 26 seats in the South as evidence of the growth of a two-party system there.

Democrats also picked up some seats in traditionally GOP northern New England—eight in New Hampshire and two in Maine—though the Republicans retain overwhelming majorities in both state capitals.

Forty-five states held election for their legislatures Nov. 6. The exceptions were Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Jersey and Virginia. Some of these five did hold special elections to fill vacancies.

The biggest Republican gain Nov. 6 was scored in Maryland where a judge's edict enlarged the House of Delegates to give greater influence to populous areas.

In Georgia, a Negro was elected to the state Senate for the first time in 92 years after historic reapportionment gave 25 of the 54 seats to nine urban counties.

Texas will have seven Republican state legislators, more than at any time since Reconstruction. The outgoing legislature had two.

Other Southern states in which Republicans gained were: Alabama 2, North Carolina 6, Oklahoma 13, Tennessee 2.

Alabama, Alaska (assuming Democrats can organize House), Arizona (nominal majority in House), Arkansas, California, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia.

Red Citizens Get Pen In Literature Case

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet citizens who distributed literature from the Jehovah's Witnesses center in Brooklyn, N.Y. have been sentenced to prison, the newspaper Trud reported today.

The literature was denounced as political, and not religious. Trud said Jehovah's Witnesses refuse to fight against war propaganda, and refuse to serve in the Soviet army.

City, Wellsville Post Offices Clean Up On Christmas Mail

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown and his staff enjoyed a brief respite from the Christmas rush today, but no doubt with mixed emotions. The Wellsville Post Office also cleaned up its Yule mail.

"We're waiting for Christmas to start all over again," Brown commented, "as we're due to get hit with 25,000 copies of the income tax right now along with personal taxes from Lisbon."

"Large mailers in the big cities also are expected to send in a tremendous volume of mail to offset the postal increases effective Jan. 7."

Brown explained that the large mailers were asked to withhold large volumes of mail until after the Christmas rush before making their year-end deposits to beat the deadline for the rate increases.

"Quite a few went along with the request, and we're enjoying a respite today, but from here on in it will be a battle," Brown declared.

First class letter postage rates will be hiked from four cents to a nickle, effective Jan. 7. Brown pointed out that letters bearing four - cent stamps must be received at the post office before 8:30 p. m. Jan. 6 in order to qualify for the rate now in effect.

Mailmen were on the job Tuesday delivering parcels and packages marked Christmas, along with special deliveries and perishable packages.

The postmaster general's rule is that mail marked "Christmas Parcels" will be delivered Dec. 25 if it arrives in time. Brown said there weren't many deliveries to be made Tuesday in two truck loads from Steubenville that arrived here at 6:30 and 11:45 a. m. "but a few would have been disappointed if we hadn't made the deliveries."

This is 533 more pieces than the 177,773 total for the same period last year. The figures do not include parcel post, machine stamped mail, etc., nor several thousand pieces that were hand canceled.

Evans said postal employes delivered 35 Christmas parcels Tuesday afternoon in a cleanup.

Grabbed Control In 3 States

GOP Picked Up 150 Seats In State Legislatures

By RAYMOND J. CROWLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans scored net gains of about 150 seats in state legislatures in the Nov. 6 election, and in the process ousted Democrats from control of both Senate and House in three states — Pennsylvania, Colorado and Utah.

Democrats still will control both legislative chambers in 26 states. The Republicans will have such two-house command in 19 states; and in four states control will be divided.

Before the election, Democrats dominated both legislative branches in 28 states, the Republicans in 14, and in 7 states control was divided.

(Nebraska has a one-chamber legislature of 45 senators elected without political labels; therefore it cannot be classified.)

The legislatures of the 50 states have about 7,500 members. Net Republican gains of around 150 are small in proportion to the total of seats but the gains are hailed by the GOP high command here as a sign of party progress. Republican leaders point, in particular, to a net pickup of 26 seats in the South as evidence of the growth of a two-party system there.

Democrats point to a victory in Hawaii, where they won control of the Senate and retained control of the House.

Democrats also picked up some seats in traditionally GOP northern New England—eight in New Hampshire and two in Maine—though the Republicans retain overwhelming majorities in both state capitals.

Forty-five states held election for their legislatures Nov. 6. The exceptions were Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Jersey and Virginia. Some of these five did hold special elections to fill vacancies.

The biggest Republican gain Nov. 6 was scored in Maryland where a judge's edict enlarged the House of Delegates to give greater influence to populous areas.

In Georgia, a Negro was elected to the state Senate for the first time in 92 years after historic reapportionment gave 25 of the 54 seats to nine urban counties.

Texas will have seven Republican state legislators, more than at any time since Reconstruction. The outgoing legislature had two.

Other Southern states in which Republicans gained were: Alabama 2, North Carolina 6, Oklahoma 13, Tennessee 2.

Alabama, Alaska (assuming Democrats can organize House), Arizona (nominal majority in House), Arkansas, California, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Mississippi, Missouri, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, Rhode Island, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia.

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet citizens who distributed literature from the Jehovah's Witnesses center in Brooklyn, N.Y. have been sentenced to prison, the newspaper Trud reported today.

The literature was denounced as political, and not religious. Trud said Jehovah's Witnesses refuse to fight against war propaganda, and refuse to serve in the Soviet army.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Friends: How beautiful Christmas and the holidays are . . . but aren't we glad that it only comes once a year? And won't it be wonderful to have the house in order again?

You know and I know that each year when we take down the tree we are so happy to get rid of the "stuff" that we just throw it in boxes. Don't this year!

Usually there is one string of lights on the tree that quit working and we didn't bother to find "which" bulb it was and cared less . . . so when we take our tree down we just throw all the decorations in a box and tell ourselves that we will worry about it next year.

BUT WHAT happens? Usually next year we only" need one or two more lights to complete the string. Test 'em NOW! Remove one string of lights from your tree and lay it on the floor. Before you pack them away, test each light on this one string and see if it works!

Throw all those bad lights away. NOW is the time to buy light bulbs and tinsel! They are on sale! Watch for bargains. This is what saves us money when it comes to budgeting. One can buy beautiful boxes of decorations this time of year.

When you pack your bulbs away . . . discard the broken ones. This is the only way to make sure you'll get new ones. I know! I have been married over 20 years!

Next year when you put up your tree, catch your husband in the mood and show him that your tree is skimpy. Then he will buy more lights, bulbs and decorations. Never go to buy these alone. Always take your husband with you! He is the one who spends on this sort of thing.

DON'T FORGET to save your prettiest Christmas cards. Save them for next year. When you are mailing packages . . . instead of that expensive ribbon, cut out the beautiful pictures from these cards and paste them on the gifts.

Right now, you are probably glad that Christmas is over and perhaps you can't remember how much all those wrappings cost! All you want is your home in order. But . . . cards take so little space. Save 'em and see how much money you will save next year.

I have also found that if you put a soiled sheet under the tree before you begin to take any decorations down . . . that this saves much energy. The needles from the tree are bound to fall and you will drop the little hooks that held the balls, and even the balls themselves. The sheet catches all of this litter.

BY PLACING a sheet under the tree after you have finished removing decorations you can just take the sheet to the garbage can and empty it there. Another way to do this is spread newspapers on the floor. Then roll them up with the litter inside and discard them.

And don't forget the beautiful Christmas wrappings. These can be used later to line bureau drawers. Save all the big pieces until you get in the mood for this job later.

Happy New Year!

Massive Search Fails To Turn Up Missing Mother

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — A "massive" Christmas Day search as the Fairfield County Sheriff's Office called it, of the Lancaster area where Mrs. Virginia Wagner vanished a week ago tonight failed to turn up a trace of the attractive 35-year-old mother of three.

The sheriff's department said 75 citizens contributed part of their holiday to help law enforcement officers hunt some clue. The searchers split into groups and combed the streets to no avail.

It was a bleak Christmas for Mrs. Wagner's husband, Chris, an Anchor Hocking Glass Corp. official, and the couple's three children. The youngsters are Scott, 11, Barbie, 10, and Tina, 8.

Mrs. Wagner was last seen shortly before 9 p.m. last Wednesday leaving in the family auto for a short ride to pick up Scott after his basketball practice. The boy came home alone at 9:30, and the car was found abandoned on Main Street on Lancaster's East Side.

Wagner and neighbors have said there was no marital discord in the household. Wagner, 39, says he is at a loss as to any reason his wife would have left of her own free will.

And up to now, city police, sheriff's offices and everyone else interested in the case say they are at a loss to explain the mystery.

Studio Dusting Off Late Actress' Film

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Twentieth Century-Fox has dusted off "Something's Got to Give"—The film of the late Marilyn Monroe was fired from—as a starring vehicle for Doris Day.

The comedy is being rewritten from the form in which it starred Miss Monroe, who took an overdose of sleeping tablets a few weeks after being sacked for frequent tardiness.

Dean Martin, Miss Monroe's co-star—who created a controversy by declining to appear without her —will not be in the new version. Neither will Cyd Charisse, who also starred in the never-completed original.

Talks Resume In Cleveland Paper Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Negotiations for two striking unions — the Cleveland Newspaper Guild and Teamsters Local 473 — were to meet separately today with officials of the city's two daily newspapers in an attempt to end the 27-day-old strike.

The first meeting was scheduled for 2 p.m. in the office of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. It involves the Guild and the morning Plain Dealer and the afternoon Scripps-Howard Cleveland Press and News.

No meetings have been held in that strike since Friday. At that time, the Guild rejected a management package offer for a two-year contract to replace one which expired Oct. 31. A company attorney said it provided for weekly wage increases averaging $8 over the life of the pact and proposals on job and union security.

Management also planned to meet with the Teamsters at 4 p.m. today. Prior to that negotiating session, the Teamsters have called membership meetings for its drivers. Anthony Depalma, business agent, said the union wants to present a progress report to the 455 drivers it represents at the two papers but that "there is nothing for the members to vote on."

Publishers' representatives and Teamsters met for three hours Monday. DePalma said it produced the "most progress since we resumed the strike."

He said six items on working conditions were discussed and three were resolved. DePalma said working conditions, mostly at the Plain Dealer, are the key to the settlement of the strike.

The Guild claims it has reached agreement on a job security clause but is no closer to an accord on the union security issue at the commercial department of the Press. The union bargains for 688 employes, which include editorial employes of both papers and the Press commercial department.

The strike, which started Nov. 29 with the walkout of drivers, now has surpassed the 26-day shutdown in 1956 of newspapers in Cleveland. The Guild struck the day after the Teamsters. The drivers returned to their jobs Dec. 10 under a truce arrangement but resumed their strike 10 days later.

The case started a controversy, with Scales' advocates saying his sentence was longer than those imposed on unreconstructed Communists. He had served nearly 15 months of his sentence and would not have been eligible for parole until next October.

7 Killed In Viet Nam As Reds Blast Train

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The South Viet Nam government reported today that seven passengers were killed and 15 injured when Communist guerrillas blew up a train loaded with holiday travelers.

The incident occurred Sunday, 390 miles north of Saigon and south of the central Vietnamese city of Hue. The guerrillas exploded a mine that derailed one car and overturned two others.

Japan Asked To Stop Steel Pipes To Soviet

TOKYO (AP) — The United States and its NATO allies have asked Japan to stop exporting steel pipes to the Soviet Union for use in Russia's oil industry, Kyodo News Service reported today.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Friends: How beautiful Christmas and the holidays are . . . but aren't we glad that it only comes once a year? And won't it be wonderful to have the house in order again?

You know and I know that each year when we take down the tree we are so happy to get rid of the "stuff" that we just throw it in boxes. Don't this year!

Usually there is one string of lights on the tree that quit working and we didn't bother to find "which" bulb it was and cared less . . . so when we take our tree down we just throw all the decorations in a box and tell ourselves that we will worry about it next year.

BUT WHAT happens? Usually next year we only" need one or two more lights to complete the string. Test 'em NOW! Remove one string of lights from your tree and lay it on the floor. Before you pack them away, test each light on this one string and see if it works!

Throw all those bad lights away. NOW is the time to buy light bulbs and tinsel! They are on sale! Watch for bargains. This is what saves us money when it comes to budgeting. One can buy beautiful boxes of decorations this time of year.

When you pack your bulbs away . . . discard the broken ones. This is the only way to make sure you'll get new ones. I know! I have been married over 20 years!

Next year when you put up your tree, catch your husband in the mood and show him that your tree is skimpy. Then he will buy more lights, bulbs and decorations. Never go to buy these alone. Always take your husband with you! He is the one who spends on this sort of thing.

DON'T FORGET to save your prettiest Christmas cards. Save them for next year. When you are mailing packages . . . instead of that expensive ribbon, cut out the beautiful pictures from these cards and paste them on the gifts.

Right now, you are probably glad that Christmas is over and perhaps you can't remember how much all those wrappings cost! All you want is your home in order. But . . . cards take so little space. Save 'em and see how much money you will save next year.

I have also found that if you put a soiled sheet under the tree before you begin to take any decorations down . . . that this saves much energy. The needles from the tree are bound to fall and you will drop the little hooks that held the balls, and even the balls themselves. The sheet catches all of this litter.

BY PLACING a sheet under the tree after you have finished removing decorations you can just take the sheet to the garbage can and empty it there. Another way to do this is spread newspapers on the floor. Then roll them up with the litter inside and discard them.

And don't forget the beautiful Christmas wrappings. These can be used later to line bureau drawers. Save all the big pieces until you get in the mood for this job later.

Happy New Year!
HELOISE.

Massive Search Fails To Turn Up Missing Mother

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — A "massive" Christmas Day search as the Fairfield County Sheriff's Office called it, of the Lancaster area where Mrs. Virginia Wagner vanished a week ago tonight failed to turn up a trace of the attractive 35-year-old mother of three.

The sheriff's department said 75 citizens contributed part of their holiday to help law enforcement officers hunt some clue. The searchers split into groups and combed the streets to no avail.

It was a bleak Christmas for Mrs. Wagner's husband, Chris, an Anchor Hocking Glass Corp. official, and the couple's three children. The youngsters are Scott, 11, Barbie, 10, and Tina, 8.

Mrs. Wagner was last seen shortly before 9 p.m. last Wednesday leaving in the family auto for a short ride to pick up Scott after his basketball practice. The boy came home alone at 9:30, and the car was found abandoned on Main Street on Lancaster's East Side.

Wagner and neighbors have said there was no marital discord in the household. Wagner, 39, says he is at a loss as to any reason his wife would have left of her own free will.

And up to now, city police, sheriff's offices and everyone else interested in the case say they are at a loss to explain the mystery.

Studio Dusting Off Late Actress' Film

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Twentieth Century-Fox has dusted off "Something's Got to Give"—The film of the late Marilyn Monroe was fired from—as a starring vehicle for Doris Day.

The comedy is being rewritten from the form in which it starred Miss Monroe, who took an overdose of sleeping tablets a few weeks after being sacked for frequent tardiness.

Dean Martin, Miss Monroe's co-star—who created a controversy by declining to appear without her—will not be in the new version. Neither will Cyd Charisse, who also starred in the never-completed original.

'Dean Of Music' Dies

Anderson retired in 1955 after 18 years as dean of the University of Louisville School of Music. He served as music critic for the Louisville Courier-Journal from 1944 until 1952. He was born in Chicago.

Talks Resume In Cleveland Paper Strike

CLEVELAND (AP) — Negotiations for two striking unions — the Cleveland Newspaper Guild and Teamsters Local 473 — were to meet separately today with officials of the city's two daily newspapers in an attempt to end the 27-day-old strike.

The first meeting was scheduled for 2 p.m. in the office of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service. It involves the Guild and the morning Plain Dealer and the afternoon Scripps-Howard Cleveland Press and News.

No meetings have been held in that strike since Friday. At that time, the Guild rejected a management package offer for a two-year contract to replace one which expired Oct. 31. A company attorney said it provided for weekly wage increases averaging $8 over the life of the pact and proposals on job and union security.

Management also planned to meet with the Teamsters at 4 p.m. today. Prior to that negotiating session, the Teamsters have called membership meetings for its drivers. Anthony Depalma, business agent, said the union wants to present a progress report to the 455 drivers it represents at the two papers but that "there is nothing for the members to vote on."

Publishers' representatives and Teamsters met for three hours Monday. DePalma said it produced the "most progress since we resumed the strike."

He said six items on working conditions were discussed and three were resolved. DePalma said working conditions, mostly at the Plain Dealer, are the key to the settlement of the strike.

The Guild claims it has reached agreement on a job security clause but is no closer to an accord on the union security issue at the commercial department of the Press. The union bargains for 688 employes, which include editorial employes of both papers and the Press commercial department.

The strike, which started Nov. 29 with the walkout of drivers, now has surpassed the 26-day shutdown in 1956 of newspapers in Cleveland. The Guild struck the day after the Teamsters. The drivers returned to their jobs Dec. 10 under a truce arrangement but resumed their strike 10 days later.

Santa Claus was back in his North Pole headquarters today after dispensing a record number of toys, dolls and other gifts to children around the world. According to reports from usually reliable sources, Santa and his trusty reindeer were taking a brief vacation before beginning preparations for next year's Christmas.

Gen. Chung Hee Park, acting president of the military government of South Korea, announced in Seoul that the military junta is adopting a new constitution that will pave the way for restoration of civil rule next summer.

Junius Irving Scales spent Christmas with his family in New York, thanks to a presidential commutation of his six-year federal prison sentence for violation of the Smith Act. Scales, 42, a former leader of the Communist party in Tennessee and the Carolinas, has insisted he became disillusioned with the party and left it before going to prison.

The case started a controversy, with Scales' advocates saying his sentence was longer than those imposed on unreconstructed Communists. He had served nearly 15 months of his sentence and would not have been eligible for parole until next October.

7 Killed In Viet Nam As Reds Blast Train

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—The South Viet Nam government reported today that seven passengers were killed and 15 injured when Communist guerrillas blew up a train loaded with holiday travelers.

The incident occurred Sunday, 390 miles north of Saigon and south of the central Vietnamese city of Hue. The guerrillas exploded a mine that derailed one car and overturned two others.

Japan Asked To Stop Steel Pipes To Soviet

TOKYO (AP) — The United States and its NATO allies have asked Japan to stop exporting steel pipes to the Soviet Union for use in Russia's oil industry, Kyodo News Service reported today.

Quoting government sources, Kyodo said the Japanese government was asked to cooperate with a decision by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to stop exporting oil pipes to the Soviet Union.

Responsible government officials declined comment.

Junior Editors Quiz on SATELLITES

QUESTION: Why do space satellites stay up so long?

ANSWER: The balance of forces needed to keep a satellite spinning around the earth is shown in our picture. A satellite is boosted into space by a powerful rocket. This must take it to exactly the right height, point it at the right angle and give it a final burst of speed so that it is traveling about 18,000 miles an hour. Then the satellite is set free from the parts of the rocket, or "circular velocity," now keeps the satellite circling the earth. This push must not be too great or the satellite would zoom off into space. If there is a man inside a satellite, he can spin around the earth many times and then by firing "retro rockets" slow down his capsule's speed so it gradually spirals down to earth. To get completely away from the earth, a rocket must put on a tremendous burst of speed, or "acceleration." But when this acceleration is used up and the rocket is in space, it will travel along without need of further pushing. Escaped from earth's gravity, men inside would be weightless. This would be free flight, often called "free fall."

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: When riding in a car on a muddy road, notice how the mud is flung up from the tires when the car goes fast. This is centrifugal force, the same force which counteracts earth's gravity to keep a satellite "in orbit."

How Can I?

Q. How can I make brown sugar syrup?

A. To make brown sugar syrup, use one cup of brown sugar to 1-3-cup of water, and let it come to the boiling point.

Q. How can I prevent fruit from discoloring when making a salad?

A. Sprinkle the apples, oranges, peaches, or bananas with lemon juice, as soon as the fruit is cut, and it will prevent discoloration, which is due to exposure to the air.

Q. How can I remove the marks left on the skin after some adhesive tape has been pulled off?

A. Fingernail polish remover is excellent for this purpose.

Q. How can I silence some squeaking floorboards?

A. This can often be accomplished merely by pouring some liquid soap into the cracks between the offending boards. The soap acts as a lubricant where the boards rub together, and it should be applied hot to insure its penetration into the wood fibers.

Unification Of Production

Farm Chief Eyes Advice Concerning 'Integration'

By integration is meant the unification of production, marketing and distribution under one unit. Involved mainly are concerns outside of agriculture, such as feed companies, chain stores, packing and canning companies and other business units which enter into what is called restrictive contracts with farmers relating to production and sale of farm products.

A national advisory committee on rural areas development, appointed some time ago by Freeman, has submitted a report which says integration threatens the future of the family type farm.

It defines a family farm as a family enterprise, a farm operated and for a family. The committee argued that family farms are more efficient than large corporation type units.

The committee urged Freeman to set up a unit in his department study and recommend changes in its programs which may be found to encourage vertical integration and contract farming. It suggested that perhaps some of the operations of outside units may be in violation of antitrust laws.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has informed President Kennedy that government direct distribution of food surpluses among the nation's needy in 1963 is expected to continue at about the same level as this year.

During 1962, a peak number of 7.4 million low-income persons received free surplus foods.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The small towns in agricultural regions of the Midwest and West may soon see a Kennedy administration effort to convince them that their fate is tied to the success or failure of strong federal farm programs.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has told President Kennedy that "the small towns of the West and Midwest, where current farm programs have been most beneficial, seem to appreciate it the least."

He informed the President that the department plans an intensive effort to "get this story across."

The secretary told Kennedy that farm income in 1962 was $2.5 billion higher than in 1960, the last year of the preceding Eisenhower administration.

"The economy of rural America was vastly improved, including small towns, farm related industries and equipment suppliers," he added.

Steel Executive Predicts Small Increase In '63

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — President Logan Johnston of Armco Steel Corp. says he expects a small increase in American steel production in 1963 despite an unfavorable export-import ratio.

In a year-end prediction statement today, Johnston said:

"Steel consumers are entering 1963 with stocks at or very near minimum working levels.

"If the economy makes the modest upward climb we anticipate, some buildup in steel inventories will be required to support these higher working levels."

The Armco president said U.S. steel consumption in 1962 was about 7 per cent above 1961, but production rose only about 1 per cent, because of high inventories.

Johnston said demand probably will rise in the areas of machinery, commercial construction, highways and pipelines.

Steel demand probably will ease off in autos and home building, he said.

Johnston said, "Approximately four million tons of foreign steel products will come into the United States, and we will ship some abroad.

"This unfavorable balance is a constant reminder of our American cost problems and of the need to modernize and improve facilities, as well as to use every other means possible to reduce costs."

He said current indications are the U. S. steel industry will spend about $1 billion in 1963 in capital improvements.

Steel Pickup Is Predicted

The metalworking weekly said an upturn in production already is assured despite some soft spots in the market that developed late this month, threatening to push output below November.

The magazine said good automotive tonnage is in sight for February, and therafter production will receive support for inventory building by major steel users.

The Iron Age said the stockpiling can be expected as a hedge against possible interruption of mill activity later on as a result of probable reopening of wage contracts with the United Steel Workers.

"Dominance of the auto industry in the lift in the market continues to cast doubt on the depth of steel market strength.

"While there is some improvement from non-automotive users of steel, it is irregular and does not yet give assurance of broad gains across product lines."

Unification Of Production

Farm Chief Eyes Advice Concerning 'Integration'

By integration is meant the unification of production, marketing and distribution under one unit. Involved mainly are concerns outside of agriculture, such as feed companies, chain stores, packing and canning companies and other business units which enter into what is called restrictive contracts with farmers relating to production and sale of farm products.

A national advisory committee on rural areas development, appointed some time ago by Freeman, has submitted a report which says integration threatens the future of the family type farm.

It defines a family farm as a family enterprise, a farm operated and for a family. The committee argued that family farms are more efficient than large corporation type units.

The committee urged Freeman to set up a unit in his department study and recommend changes in its programs which may be found to encourage vertical integration and contract farming. It suggested that perhaps some of the operations of outside units may be in violation of antitrust laws.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has informed President Kennedy that government direct distribution of food surpluses among the nation's needy in 1963 is expected to continue at about the same level as this year.

During 1962, a peak number of 7.4 million low-income persons received free surplus foods.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The small towns in agricultural regions of the Midwest and West may soon see a Kennedy administration effort to convince them that their fate is tied to the success or failure of strong federal farm programs.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has told President Kennedy that "the small towns of the West and Midwest, where current farm programs have been most beneficial, seem to appreciate it the least."

He informed the President that the department plans an intensive effort to "get this story across."

The secretary told Kennedy that farm income in 1962 was $2.5 billion higher than in 1960, the last year of the preceding Eisenhower administration.

"The economy of rural America was vastly improved, including small towns, farm related industries and equipment suppliers," he added.

Steel Executive Predicts Small Increase In '63

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — President Logan Johnston of Armco Steel Corp. says he expects a small increase in American steel production in 1963 despite an unfavorable export-import ratio.

In a year-end prediction statement today, Johnston said:

"Steel consumers are entering 1963 with stocks at or very near minimum working levels.

"If the economy makes the modest upward climb we anticipate, some buildup in steel inventories will be required to support these higher working levels."

The Armco president said U.S. steel consumption in 1962 was about 7 per cent above 1961, but production rose only about 1 per cent, because of high inventories.

Johnston said demand probably will rise in the areas of machinery, commercial construction, highways and pipelines.

Steel demand probably will ease off in autos and home building, he said.

Johnston said, "Approximately four million tons of foreign steel products will come into the United States, and we will ship some abroad.

"This unfavorable balance is a constant reminder of our American cost problems and of the need to modernize and improve facilities, as well as to use every other means possible to reduce costs."

He said current indications are the U. S. steel industry will spend about $1 billion in 1963 in capital improvements.

Steel Pickup Is Predicted

The metalworking weekly said an upturn in production already is assured despite some soft spots in the market that developed late this month, threatening to push output below November.

The magazine said good automotive tonnage is in sight for February, and therafter production will receive support for inventory building by major steel users.

The Iron Age said the stockpiling can be expected as a hedge against possible interruption of mill activity later on as a result of probable reopening of wage contracts with the United Steel Workers.

Sketching of a generally optimistic picture for the months ahead was accompanied by some cautionary comment:

"Dominance of the auto industry in the lift in the market continues to cast doubt on the depth of steel market strength.

"While there is some improvement from non-automotive users of steel, it is irregular and does not yet give assurance of broad gains across product lines."
